Stalin's Death Ended New Purges, Khrushchev Says

Adlai, Estes Finish Battle In California

Both Candidates See Victory at Close of Hard-Fought Primary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver traded last-minute punches and victory claims today in a hard-swinging finale to their California presidential primary campaign.

Election officials said the fired-up contest may attract 65 per cent of the state's three million registered Democrats to the polls Tuesday. With President Eisenhower unopposed on the Republican ticket, the GOP vote is expected to hit around 55 per cent.

Other Contests

Voters will decide party nominations for the U.S Senate, 30 seats in the House, all 80 in the State Assembly and 20 of the 40 in the State Senate.

Kefauver, battling desperately to stay in the race for the Democratic nomination, predicted he'll win the California delegation by 185,000 votes. His state campaign manager, Tom C. Carroll, said the margin may soar as high as 200,000.

Their statements matched the Stevenson optimism that has climbed steadily since Oregon and Florida went his way. Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, heading his well-backed California drive for 68 national convention votes, talked of a possible landslide for the 1952 presidential candidate.

Calls It Heartening

Stevenson himself, in an Oakland speech Sunday, simply called it a "heartening" and "winning" campaign. He offered no guess as to his vote.

Both Stevenson and Kefauver finished their northern California campaigning in the same area and left to deliver closing appeals today for support in Los Angeles. The big southern county holds 40 per cent of the statewide, 58-county vote.

Kefauver maintained his aggressive fire on his party opponent in a speech, in an Oakland park in a Negro district.

He questioned whether Stevenson supporters in Florida, where Stevenson won 22 of the 28 Democratic delegates, may have made a secret deal to gain the support of Southern Racial segregationists.

Then, in a statewide telecast, he told California voters: "Yours will be the choice between a timid

Top Officials Were Objects Of Suspicion

Details of Sensational Assault on Dictator Bared by State Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev charged when launching the present Kremlin regime's down-grading of Joseph Stalin that Stalin was planning a murderous new purge of top associates just before he died.

The charge immediately stirred speculation among American officials that Stalin may have been murdered to prevent him from carrying out his alleged purpose.

Stalin's death March 5, 1953 was attributed to natural causes in Russian reports, and there was little inclination at the time to doubt them.

Made in February

The accusation against Stalin, including the charge that he was preparing to wipe out some time Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Politburo member A. I Mikoyan, was made in a speech Feb. 24-25 at the 20th congress of the Soviet communist party in Moscow.

American officials privately indicated they thought that the charges of a new purge in preparation had the effect of reopening the whole question of how Stalin died.

The official Soviet version has been that he succumbed to a brain hemorrhage. The bulletins on his illness and death were signed by some of Moscow's foremost men. The best informed U. S experts on the Soviet Union had always considered it probable that Stalin died the way that his successors said he did.

Always Suspicious

But the line taken in the Khrushchev speech, picturing old Stalin as a victim of suspicions and fears, ruthless in his use of power, driven by "mania for greatness," plotting a new purge, suggests that the men who were closest to Stalin had strong reason to get rid of him.

Khrushchev said Stalin had made "baseless charges" against Vyacheslov M. Molotov, then Soviet foreign minister, and Anastas I. Mikoyan, a member of the top Politburo.

And, characterizing Stalin as "sickly suspicious," he said the late Soviet premier once entertained a suspicion that the present president of Russia, Klementi Y. Voroshilov, was "an English agent." He said Stalin had a lis-

Strike Control Up to States, Justices Rule

Court Says Federal Law Doesn't Prevent Action on Local Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court decided 6-3 today the Taft-Hartley labor law does not prevent state labor boards from banning mass picketing, use of force and threats of violence by strikers.

Justice Reed delivered the decision for the majority composed of himself and Justices Frankfurter, Burton, Clark, Minton and Harlan. Justice Douglas wrote a dissent, in which Chief Justice Warren and Justice Black joined.

The ruling was given on an appeal by the United Automobile Workers (7-2) from a decision by the Wisconsin Supreme Court. The state court upheld an injunction which restricted picketing and other union activities during an April 1954 strike at the plant of the Kohler Co., in Kohler, Wis.

Reed's majority opinion said "the dominant interest of the state in preventing violence and property damage cannot be questioned

"It is a matter of genuine local concern." Reed added.

"Nor should the fact that a union commits a federal unfair labor practice while engaging in violent conduct prevent states from taking steps to stop the violence. . .

"The states are the natural guardians of the public against violence It is the local communities that suffer most from the fear and loss occasioned by coercion and destruction. We would not interpret an act of Congress to leave them powerless to avert such emergencies without compelling directions to that effect.

"We hold that Wisconsin may enjoin the violent union conduct here involved. The fact that Wisconsin has chosen to entrust its power to a (state) labor board is of no concern to this court.

Truman Plays Mozart on the Latter's Piano

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) —Harry S. Truman, one of America's best known amateur pianists, played a Mozart sonata today on Mozart's piano in the house where the composer was born 200 years ago.

The former President's Austrian guides applauded. The instrument was used by young Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart for his earliest compositions.

Truman said Mozart is "one of my favorite composers."

Mrs. Truman accompanied him on the tour of the shrine.

The ex-President and his wife were honor guests at a special Mozart concert Saturday night.

During the concert the conductor, Bernhard Paumgartner, expelled movie photographers who went into action during a minuet. At a supper after the concert, Truman — who once wrote a famous furious letter to a Washington music critic — said he often wished he "could deal with the people of the press like Prof. Paumgartner did in having them ousted."

Safe, $20,000 Stolen in Ohio

Owner Says Robbers Will Not Get It Open

CINCINNATI (AP) — A three-ton safe containing at least $20,000 in cash was stolen early today from the Farm and Home Center Store on Ohio 28, near Milford, police reported. The watchman was bound.

M. R Theilmar, store owner, estimated the loss but added that the safe was "burglar proof" and the robbers would be unable to open it.

William Williamson, 70, the watchman, said four or five masked men participated in the robbery. He said he found the men in the store when he walked from a washroom.

He said one of them threw a coat over his head. Then his eyes were taped and he was tied with insulation wire. Williamson told police it took him about two hours to get free.

More Rainfall Threatened in Flooded Areas

Columbia River and Its Tributaries Leave Banks in Northwest

By The Associated Press

Rain clouds threatened to send more water into the flooding Columbia River in the Pacific Northwest today.

Some 1,000 persons have been evacuated and thousands of acres of land have been flooded as the Columbia and its tributaries carried runoffs from record mountain snowpacks.

Dikes Expected To Hold

A crest of 27 feet has been forecast at Vancouver, Wash., where the Columbia rose to nearly 12 feet above flood stage. Army engineers expected the major dikes to hold at a 28-foot level.

However, one major diking district went underwater Sunday when workers gave up efforts at closing a hole in a levee apparently burrowed by beavers. The water covered 1,600 acres of land and 12 families who lived in the area were evacuated.

A number of river communities on the Washington side of the river were flooding.

The Kootenai, a Columbia tributary in Idaho, rose to near record crests at Bonners Ferry. Some 18,000 acres of Idaho farmland have been flooded

Snake Also Flooded

The upper Snake in eastern Idaho and Wyoming also was well above flood stage. A flood emergency has been called by Army engineers for several communities bordering the Snake.

Meanwhile, residents of Mustang Okla., counted damage from two tornadoes that swirled over the town at treetop level Sunday. The freakish twin funnels damaged every home in Mustang, a town of 210 in central Oklahoma, but left no one injured.

Property damage was estimated at $200,000.

Grace Expecting, Says Newspaper in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Grace Kelly, married April 16 to Prince Rainer of Monaco, is expecting a baby late next January, the New York Post said today.

Columnist Earl Wilson reported that the news "was cabled to me as a fact — not a rumor" by a source "close to the Prince and the royal palace in Monaco."

Marion Group Making Plans For July 4th

Marion moved one step closer to a July 4 celebration at a meeting Sunday night at City Hall Several civic leaders and city officials attended the meeting and organized a Citizens' Committee for a July 4 Celebration.

A representative of a leading fireworks manufacturer spoke and the group scheduled another meeting for Wednesday at 8 p m. at City Hall Representatives of civic clubs, veterans organizations and labor groups will be invited to attend the session.

An election of officers will be held and committees appointed to carry out plans for the program A spokesman for the group said today one objective of the proposed program was to "keep Marion off the highways on July 4."

At the Wednesday night meeting, methods of financing the program will be discussed, along with the type program desired.

The spokesman said the possibility exists that an all-afternoon program may be arranged instead of confining the activities to the fireworks display originally suggested

Plans now call for the event to become an annual program.

Montana, New York, Dakota Primaries Due

By The Associated Press

New York, Montana and South Dakota also hold primaries tomorrow. Kefauver stands to pick up by default 16 delegate votes in Montana and 8 in South Dakota. He has no opposition in the two states except write-ins in Montana.

In New York a Republican slate of national convention delegates for President Eisenhower is unopposed. Gov. Averell Harriman had some opposition but was expected to get most of the 86 district Democratic delegates votes. Harriman describes himself as "not an active candidate" for the presidential nomination.

In Washington, Kefauver's national campaign headquarters announced formation of a five-congressman steering committee to support his bid for the nomination. It listed Representatives Knutson (Minn), Burnside (WVa), Sisk (Calif), Hays (Ohio) and Johnson (Wis), all Democrats.

An announcement attributed to the committee said Kefauver's "outstanding record as a member of the House and the Senate for nearly 18 years has won for him the respect of his colleagues in Congress, where there is a warm feeling toward Sen. Kefauver which cuts across party lines."

Also in Washington, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler renewed opposition sniping at President Eisenhower's absences from the White House, which Butler said totaled "more

Ike Dedicates Labor Center In Washington

Says Unions' Rising Strength Carries Vast New Responsibilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told organized labor today its growing strength carries with it a vast new responsibility, like that of government, to serve the people without seeking to dominate them.

"Dedicated to the service of people — that is what labor and government must always be," Eisenhower said.

Dedicates Building

The President dedicated the new national headquarters building of the AFL-CIO.

Some 8,000 spectators looked on as Eisenhower said he was delighted to "pay this neighborly call from my place across the square." The headquarters building is just a short distance across Lafayette Park from the White House.

Eisenhower assured leaders of the recently-merged labor organization he will always be willing to "discuss anything of mutual interest."

Free Institutions

The President spoke of the merger as bringing great new strength to organized labor and its leaders, vast new opportunities, and also "a vast increase in responsibilities"

The greatest responsibility, he said, is to maintain free democratic institutions within labor in

President Spends Weekend on Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flew, back to Washington today after a quiet weekend at his farm home near Gettysburg, Pa.

The Chief Executive, Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver, took it easy at the farm Sunday.

On Saturday, when rain kept Eisenhower off the golf course, he received two western cowboy ponies, gift of the American Quarter Horse Assn. and its president, Lester Goodson of Magnolia, Texas. A 7-year-old mare was presented to Eisenhower. The other, a two-year-old filly, was given to his grandson, David Eisenhower, 8.

Visitor Lays Wreath

Stalin's Grave Ignored By Tito; Lenin Honored

MOSCOW (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito visited the Lenin-Stalin mausoleum today and pointedly ignored Stalin, the man who expelled him from the Communist family of nations eight years ago.

The Yugoslav president, here to cement his new friendship with the Soviet Union's post-Stalin leaders, laid a giant wreath of Easter lilies and tulips at the tomb in Red Square. The inscription on it said:

"To Vladimir Ilyich Lenin from Josip Broz Tito."

Walks Past Tomb

Without missing a step, Tito marched briskly past the glass-encased bodies of Lenin and Stalin inside the mausoleum. Abreast of Lenin's casket, the visitor turned his head and looked briefly.

He walked past Stalin's body without turning his head.

Eight minutes after he left his car, the Yugoslav chief had walked through the mausoleum, marched past a line of some 40 tombs of Communist leaders encased in the Kremlin walls and was being driven away.

Tito was accompanied on his hurried pilgrimage to the dead Reds by his handsome wife Jovanka, smartly dressed in a pink silk gabardine dress and a white hat.

Tito, meanwhile, had been paying his protocol call on Premier Bulganin at the Kremlin and then had conferred with Soviet Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev. For the talks in the Kremlin, Tito was accompanied by Nikolai Ferubin, the Soviet ambassador to Yugoslavia, Yugoslav Vice President Edvard Kardelj, Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic and other high-ranking members of the delegation from Belgrade.

Tito took a breather from his policy talks Sunday to browse through Moscow streets where he hung out while training here as a revolutionary.

Walk Near Kremlin

Tito and Khrushchev, accompanied by Mrs. Tito and a bevy of Soviet and Yugoslav officials, clambered out of their limousines about a block from the Kremlin and sauntered under the lime trees.

Some 500 Muscovites, who never had a chance to rub elbows with the Communist brass in Stalin's day, spotted the group and swarmed happily around

Pushed and jostled, Tito and Khrushchev smilingly ducked into an ice cream parlor. Their waitress said the two Communist leaders downed some champagne, as well as ices, before venturing out again to face the crowd.

Action Expected Soon in Merging Car, Plane Firms

NEW YORK (AP)—Will the long-awaited deal between Studebaker-Packard Corp. and Curtiss-Wright Corp. jell this week?

From all sides the reports agree that some kind of arrangement is in the making. Last week it was understood that the parties were on the verge of a public announcement but apparently they did not reach complete agreement

Late in the week, however, a spokesman for Studebaker said, "It appears everything is set up to make such a deal."

Wolfson Gives Stock to 1,000 New Graduates

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Financier Louis E. Wolfson today gave each of the almost 1,000 June graduates of the University of Georgia one share of common stock of the Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corp.

Wolfson, who parlayed a Florida junk yard into a multi-million dollar business enterprise, is an alumnus of the University of Georgia and president and chairman of the board of Merritt-Chapman & Scott.

The surprise distribution was made at the student center just prior to graduation exercises In a letter accompanying each share of stock, Wolfson asked the graduates to accept it "as a token of my conviction that the American democratic system is the world's chief hope for peace and decency."

Merritt-Chapman & Scott is engaged in chemical paint and metallurgical production;' construction; steel and equipment manufacturing, and shipbuilding. The company's common stock closed at $18.87½ in New York Saturday.

Rev. Hollensen Speaks

3,000 Attend Harding Baccalaureate Service

An audience estimated at 3,000 persons attended baccalaureate services for the Harding High School senior class Sunday afternoon in the school auditorium.

Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church, delivered the sermon on "A Cake Not Turned," comparing a man or woman without God to the cake which, having been left unturned, could not be considered done or finished

Rev. Hollensen declared that the person going through life without some spiritual guidance was certain to lack three essential properties. He listed them as 1. peace of mind, 2. the satisfaction of fulfilling God's role for him or her in life, and 3. eternal life.

Rev. Hollensen challenged the members of the graduating class to take God with them as they went forth into the world, saying that without Him their chances of success were measurably impaired.

Preceding the program, Miss Loretta Caskey presented an organ recital. Included among the numbers was "Melody in F," Rubenstein; "Liebestraum," Liszt; "Finlandia," Sibelious; "Aria," Bach; "Londonderry Air," an Irish song; "Panis Angelicus," Cesar Frank; "O Sole Mio," DeCapua; and "Consolation," Mendelssohn.

The processional, "War March of the Priests," Mendelssohn, was played by the Harding orchestra, and the anthem, "Never Grow Tired of Praying," Youse, was sung by the Harding choir, directed by L. G. Jones, head of the

House Debate Opens

Military Leaders Fight Huge Foreign Aid Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. military leaders are reported to say a proposed billion-dollar cut in foreign military aid is both "politically and militarily unacceptable" and to want the cut held to 129 millions.

This Pentagon viewpoint was reported by Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) as the House prepared to take up Wednesday a sharply cut version of President Eisenhower's $4,900,000 foreign aid program. The authorization bill would fix ceilings; actual appropriations would be made later.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted to cut a billion dollars from the three billions Eisenhower asked for military aid, and another 109 millions from his $1,900,000,000 request for economic and technical aid.

Vorys quoted unnamed Defense Department officials as saying a basic revamping of the nation's security program might be required if the committee cut is sustained, but that 129 millions might be trimmed "without serious damage to the national interest " Vorys is a senior Republican member of the committee.

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce took the opposite approach, however, saying the committee's cuts "would hardly cripple" the program.

Even with the cut, the council, a study group, said "there would be over 10½ billions available for expenditure at the beginning of fiscal 1957 (starting July 1); this would be enough to carry the program 2½ years at the present rate of foreign spending."

Bargaining Ruled Out

Deportation Order Stayed

Japanese Student Can Continue OWU Studies

DELAWARE — Takayaski "Koby" Kobayashi, a premiedical student at Ohio Wesleyan University, can now settle down to the business of studying for final examinations with the happy knowledge that his fellow students at the university have joined him in his three-year fight for United States citizenship, thanks to an all-out campaign by the student newspaper, the Transcript.

JUST LAST WEEK the young student was elated when he read a letter stating that U. S. Rep. J. Harry McGregor was about to introduce a personal bill in the House to gain citizenship for Koby and that meanwhile his student status would not be changed.

That same afternoon, though, Koby received another letter from the Immigration Service in Cincinnati advising him that his non-immigrant status had been terminated and that he must depart from the United States on or before June 25, 1956.

At this point, Koby's fellow students and University officials whipped into action. The student newspaper collected more than 1,000 student signatures on a petition sent to Congressman McGregor and stating.

"We the undersigned fellow students of "Koby" Kobayashi urge you to do all in your power to prevent his deportation and to open the way to United States citizenship for him, this being his greatest desire out of life. We also want to express our sincere appreciation for measures you already have taken in this direction."

IN THE FINAL ISSUE of the newspaper last week, Editor Diane Wrassmann, of Cincinnati, wrote, "We think we have problems now with exams just around the corner and final grades approaching. Our troubles are minute compared to those of Kobayashi, who at this writing faces deportation from the country he has come to love"

She concluded her editorial urging students to write to their senators and congressmen in Washington to support the bill for Koby's citizenship.

Last week the fears for Koby's status subsided with a call from Rep. McGregor to Herman Shipps, vice president of the university.

The congressman explained that the Immigration Service order has been based on a bill for Koby's citizenship introduced in the Senate by Sen. Mike Monroney (D.-Okla.) early in 1954, and without the knowledge that Rev. McGregor was introducing a companion bill in this session.

Rep. McGregor explained further that his bill was introduced to the House Tuesday, May 29, and that it might still be taken up in this session of Congress. If not, he added, Koby's status will remain the same at least until March of next year.

Koby came to this country in 1951 under a student visa as a ward of Air Force Col. David Crabtree.

In 1945, an allied bombing raid left Koby homeless. Though his family survived, the nine-year-old boy sought odd jobs to help provide for his parents and two younger sisters.

Koby was washing a car in a large Tokyo parking lot when he first met Col. Crabtree. Later he became a close friend of the colonel's six-year-old son, Jerry, and was taken in by the Crabtree family as a houseboy.

He accompanied the Crabtrees to Hawaii in 1951, and later to this country where he attended the Midwest City High School in Oklahoma from 1952 to 1954 before entering the premedical program at Ohio Wesleyan.

The citizenship bill introduced by Sen. Monroney in 1954 was delayed when Col Crabtree was transferred to command Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois.

Army, Navy Union Concludes 3-Day State Convention

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of the Army and Navy Union concluded its three-day 38th annual encampment here Sunday by electing Russell Mytenka of Akron commander and selecting Canton as its 1957 meeting place.

Mytenka, a World War II veteran and a B. F. Goodrich Co. tire plant worker, succeeds Warden Ankeny of Lakemore, Summit County

Other officers elected by some 600 delegates from 110 Army and Navy Union garrisons in Ohio included:

Robert D. Mazon, Massillon, senior vice commander; John Savarin, Youngstown, junior vice commander Richard Gantz, Lakemore, judge advocate; Homer Dills, Warren, paymaster; Jack Nybell, Youngstown, adjutant; James Riley, Canton, patriotic instructor; Paul G. Weigel, Akron, national councilman.

The ladies auxiliary elected Mrs. Augusta Nolan of Cleveland to succeed Mrs. Edna Riley of Canton as president.

Resolutions passed by the department included ones calling for a state bonus for veterans of the Korean War, free Ohio license plates for national guardsmen, GI education privileges for all men honorably discharged from service, and a combining of Armed Forces Day, observed in mid-May, with Flag Day, June 14.

IT'S SWITCHCRAFT

— that's what it is!

You'll see when you try Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow*!

IT TAKES a new word to describe the magic at your command when you drive a '56 Buick—with the newest transmission of them all.

It's full power go-ahead on the instant. You can get where you were just looking in a shaved second's time—with the most modern and most thrilling surge of safety acceleration in the land today.

It's smoothness, too. Complete freedom from the "bump" and lag of gears shifting. Only with Dynaflow can you go winging away with so smooth a sweep.

And only with a '56 Buick can you enjoy Dynaflow's newest marvel. The engineers call it "double regeneration." Lets you start off like an Olympic sprinter, with the pedal pressed just an inch or less. (And driving that way, you get better gas mileage.)

There's more big news, too, that goes with this new Buick magic. And that covers a lot more than styling.

Sure—you'll like the graceful new beauty of the V-shaped prow and sweep-ahead look. And you'll like the extra room inside.

But as you drive you'll find that this Buick responds with the new might of a big, record-powered V8 engine of 322-cubic-inch heft.

It handles easy as butter to a warm knife. Tracks the curves like a plane on the beam. Makes any road seem paved with pillows.

And what's responsible for all this are more new engineering advances than Buick has ever made in one model year.

Negro Begins His Ministry in White Church

CHICAGO (AP) — A Negro minister, the first ever appointed pastor by a white congregation in Chicago, delivered his innaugural sermon Sunday before an integrated church membership.

The Rev Dr. Abraham Lincoln Reynolds Jr, 39, formerly of Topeka, Kan., assumed his pastorate of the Sixth United Presbyterian Church at 11 a m services Sunday. He was appointed pastor May 11.

Alexander Stevenson, chief usher, said 246 worshippers attended the service, 60 per cent Negro and 40 per cent white Negroes had attended services previously as visitors but never before as members.

"All men are created in the image of God," said Dr. Reynolds in his invocation

"There are some men," he continued, "who say all men and women cannot live and worship together. But a Man who lived on this earth 1,900 years ago said it can be done"

Dr Reynolds told his congregation of whites and Negroes that, "We cannot help but believe that somewhere in the portals of glory at this moment, there must be a smile on His face"

At the time church elders began a search for a new pastor, parishioners began a canvass of the neighborhood to invite Negroes to become members of the 59-year-old church.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Katharine MacDonald Holmes, the "American Beauty" of the silent screen, died early today after a long illness.

In the early days of the movies, Miss MacDonald attained stardom and was chosen the "American Beauty" at about the same time that Mary Pickford became noted as "America's Sweetheart."

Miss MacDonald retired from the screen in the twenties to marry Christian R. Holmes, an heir to the Fleischman yeast fortune They were divorced in 1931 but reconciled in 1933. They lived in nearby Montecito.

Steelmen Worry Over Union Demands, Consumers' Plans

By SAM DAWSON

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The booming steel industry has some liver spots today to mar its otherwise blooming complexion. And its nerves are a little frayed from two of its ulcer-making worries: Workers' demands at the production end and consumers' plans at the sales end.

That's why you can get such a wide range of guesses as to what's ahead for the industry — and for those that supply it or buy from it —this summer or even this fall. For the years farther ahead everyone seems to believe its health excellent.

The liver spots are just that — spotty Some of the industry's products aren't in as great demand as formerly — steel for autos, for one example. Orders are falling off and total shipments may too in the weeks ahead, strike or no strike.

Some Demands Urgent

But some products are still in great demand and shipments under allocation Makers of these see little chance of any letdown at all, if the wage talks have a happy ending. Demand is urgent for steel for construction, freight cars, bridges.

That's why, when most of the big steel company brass was here for the start of the wage talks, you could get estimates on summer production running from 100 per cent of capacity down to 70 per cent. That's why a specialty steel firm talks in glowing terms, and a basic company stresses caution.

And betting on the chance of a strike follows something of the same lines. Those in the booming speciality field are more likely, perhaps out of wishful thinking, to believe it can be avoided. Those who believe production is going to fall off anyway are more likely to talk of toughening resistance to the labor demands.

Those who say that steel output is headed for a dip this summer anyway — a top spokesman for U S. steel who asked to have his name withheld is among these— cites these weak spots in the industry's immediate outlook:

Demand from important customers like the auto, farm machinery and some appliance makers is down. Also, whenever steel users could, they have built up inventories, because they expect steep price rises after the labor talks, strike or no strike. Vacations in the steel mills will cut production, and vacations in the plants of their customers will cut consumption. Hot weather always increases absenteeism.

Fall Pickup Forecast

Most steelmen, with a notable exception, look for a pickup in the fall. They see the auto industry going full blast again on new models. They believe whatever inventories were built up this spring will be used up by then. They hope that any slump in the economy in general will have run its course.

Many insist some phases of steel production will see no dip at all. Clark W. King, executive vice president of Allegheny - Ludlum Steel, says the specialty steels—especially stainless and those used in electronics — are in this happy state. Steel products using scarce nickel are on a strict allocation basis. In the last two weeks his company's orders have shown a marked pickup. Expansion programs of his customers augur well for the future.

Officials of Pittsburgh Steel predict full operations through the summer months. Armco Steel executives have similar hopes. Bethlehem Steel's men say orders assure full speed ahead for the rest of the year.

Postmen Out To Solve Menace of Biting Dogs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some dogs like to tag along after the mailman on his rounds. Others yip at him, staying carefully out of kicking range.

But there is a third class of dogs who deliver a slashing bite on the legs or hands of around 6,000 postmen a year.

Those are the ones that worry Joseph C. Doherty, who himself was bitten three times during his 19 years as a Cincinnati postman.

Heads Letter Carriers

Now president of the National Assn. of Letter Carriers, Doherty is looking ahead to a meeting Tuesday called by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

At this conference, dog authorities and postal spokesmen, including Doherty, are going to try to find out how that menace, the biting dog, can be removed from a mailman's life.

A big hulk of a man who might give a nasty dog pause before attacking, Doherty wants everybody to know that the big majority of mailmen really love dogs.

"I have two dogs myself," he said the other day, "a black cocker named Mike and a springer named Sparky.

"Yes, they bark at the mailman. But there are two kinds of barks—one vicious, the other friendly. Theirs is a friendly bark, more like a greeting.

"A letter carrier has to learn to determine the difference."

In fact, Doherty says, letter carriers have had to learn a lot about dogs through sheer self-preservation.

One cardinal point that every postman should know is this: Never back up, no matter how viciously a dog charges at you.

"If you stand still, nine times out of 10 he won't bite," says Doherty. "If you back up, you're gone.

"I made the mistake once of backing away from an airedale in Avondale, a suburb of Cincinnati. It was the only time I had a serious bite."

Aggressive Move

Then there is the more aggressive maneuver of swinging sharply at the animal with a strap on the postal bag. Don't hit the dog, Doherty says, that just gets the owner sore.

But getting back to Summerfield's dog bite conference, Doherty says he's especially interested in what a "dog psychologist" is going to say, a profession he says is new to him. He's also intrigued with the idea of spraying a chemical dog repellant on a mailman's uniform.

"Really, though," he says, "all you need is enforcement of regulations. If the owner of a bad dog won't tie or muzzle him, service should be withdrawn. It's just that simple.

"Occasionally, this is enforced. But most postmasters don't want to get in bad with Mrs. Jones or Mrs. Smith."

Speaking of housewives, Doherty says every mailman is familiar with the one who says: "Don't be scared. He won't bite."

"That," says Doherty, "is the dog you've got to watch."

Chicago Man Charged In Columbus Stabbing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Farley Smith, 29, of Chicago, has been charged with manslaughter in the stabbing death of his brother, Eugene, 30, also of Chicago.

The victim was found dead Saturday night in the apartment of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Smith. He had been stabbed in the abdomen with a butcher knife.

Homicide detectives said Farley admitted the stabbing during a quarrel over a car. He was charged Sunday. Officers said the two brothers had come to Columbus for a weekend visit with their parents.

Police said they were holding Georgia Smith, 27, also of Chicago, as a material witness. She was identified as Farley Smith's common law wife.

Cleveland Woman Injured in Crash In Morrow County

One person was slightly injured in one of two traffic accidents investigated outside Marion County over the weekend by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Injured was Virginia O'Dell, 29, of Euclid, O. She suffered a bruised left knee and neck but required no treatment in a mishap on Route 42, nine-tenths of a mile north of Mount Gilead, at 7:35 a.m. Sunday.

She was a passenger in a southbound car driven by James B. O'Dell, 40, of the same address which went out of control, left the road and rolled over on its top against a telephone pole.

The pole owned by the Ohio Central Telephone Co. of Mount Gilead was broken off, patrolmen reported. There was considerable damage to the right side, top and left rear end of the O'Dell vehicle.

The other mishap, involving two cars, occurred on Route 42, two miles north of Mount Gilead, at 6:45 p.m. Saturday.

According to patrolmen, a car driven by Arpad J. Pecsi, 37, of Willoughby, O., traveling south, ran into the rear of one operated by Franklin Mosier, 67, of Mount Gilead.

Minor damage resulted to both vehicles. Pesci arrested on a charge of unsafe operation, was fined $30 and costs by Mayor Emery Murphy of Mount Gilead.

Two Motorists Fined

GALION — Two motorists were fined in highway cases heard by Mayor Francis Schalip of Galion Friday and Saturday.

The hearing Saturday was for William C. Houpt, 68, of 132 High St., Marion, charged with improper passing. He was fined $20 and costs. In the hearing, Friday, Ralph Close, 41, of Galion, was fined $35 and costs for unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

Wraps Off in Korea

When the truce began in Korea on July 26, 1953, no one believed the Reds had any intention of giving up their drive to control the strategic Korean peninsula.

The stubborn president of South Korea, Syngman Rhee, thought he had been sold out by the United States and the United Nations and said so. As early as Sept. 22, 1953, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, eighth army commander, said the Reds were rebuilding their North Korean forces in violations of the truce. A North Korean pilot who fled to South Korea in a Russian - built MIG-15 plane that month said new air bases in North Korea were plastered with Russian jet fighters and bombers. An informed estimate at the time placed the total of Red jets in North Korea at 1,600, plus 700 non-jet planes.

This is the background for suspension of the United Nations Supervisory Commission in South Korea, on the grounds it was being used as a blind for the illegal importation of war material. This agency is not to be confused with the Armistice Commission, which is responsible for maintaining the truce. The U. N. Supervisory Commission is responsible only for keeping arms shipments from reaching Korea.

Why has the United Nations lowered the boom belatedly?

Usually, the reason for doing belatedly what should have been done before is that there is no further reason for pretense. The wraps are off in Korea. No one sees any reason to pretend any longer that the Reds did not arm North Korea to the teet as soon as the armistice negotiations had made it plain the United Nations was at the end of its American-made rope as the guarantor of Korean security.

Destruction Plus

It would help all of us to understand what we are told about the security of this country in the event of atomic war if we could "play it back" to our sources of information.

They could listen to our impressions and correct our misapprehensions, if any.

What our sources of information seem to be saying in a roundabout way is that there is no defense against atomic war if started suddenly without any advance warning and brought to bear massively by long-range, high-speed bombers.

Instead of defense, there would be retaliation, the only deterrent threat possible to the United States, which is incapable, under its constitutional system of delegated powers and checks and balances, of going to war until it has been attacked.

The United States, therefore, must put all its reliance on retaliation, with whatever defense may accrue from fighter planes and guided missiles. But in a showdown, national security would simmer down to hope of a warning of attack, enabling retaliatory air power to carry out the destruction of enemy cities and air bases. American cities and bases would be destroyed, too, but the enemy's ability to capitalize on a surprise attack would have been wiped out.

Both sides would lose the war at the outset, and neither could salvage victory from defeat. Thus, the sole hope of security is to keep on the plus side of atomic destruction, on the assumption that fear of retaliation is the only deterrent in atomic war.

Is this what the strategists of atomic war like Gen. Curtis LeMay of the U.S. Air Force are trying to tell the American people?

In the Right Direction

If the problem of industrial surplus were to be tackled as awkwardly as the problem of agricultural surplus has been tackled, the automobile industry now would step up production for dead storage.

Knowing that its distributors and dealers could not absorb all of its output, the auto industry would produce extra cars solely to draw the government subsidy for production.

Cars would be stacked up like cordwood in tents, in caves and in open fields. The automobile surplus would be a subject of endless discussion. It would hang over the new-car market like a sword of Damocles, threatening to fall and cut every throat in the business.

Politicians would buzz around it like flies around a dead elephant, baffled by the enormity of the problem but totally unable to do anything about it, except mess around it.

But in the automobile industry, the solution to the problem of what to do with a surplus is to cut back production, to keep the surplus from turning into an elephant.

In farming, on the other hand, production cannot be turned on and off like a faucet. Farmers do not have unemployment compensation, old-age benefits and seniority rights to protect them. All they have had so far is an inflexible policy of paying them to produce more foodstuffs and fibers than were needed so they could collect subsidy payments from the government.

The new farm bill is a question mark in many respects, but its soil bank section marks the adoption of a policy of cutting down surplus production instead of piling it up like a dead elephant for politicians to buzz around—and that is a move in the right direction.

Swing to Eisenhower

Poll Claims Labor Deserting Democrats

WASHINGTON — Peace and prosperity and the broad issues of a relatively contented electorate are more important politically today than the narrower interests of groups such as labor union partisans.

Lawrence

This the plain meaning of the latest survey conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion under the direction of Dr. George Gallup. It shows that for the first time in 20 years the majority of the labor union members responding to the survey now favor the election of a Republican rather than a Democratic nominee for the presidency.

After the 1936 election the Gallup survey found that only 20 per cent of the labor union men voted Republican and in 1940 and 1944 it was still only 28 per cent and in 1948 it slipped back to 26 per cent. In 1952 it went up to 39 per cent and today the Republican nominee gets 54 per cent.

This is a phenomenal jump upward for the Republicans and completely reverses the 1952 survey figure when Mr. Stevenson got 61 per cent of the labor vote. Today Mr. Stevenson shows 42 per cent and there are 4 per cent who are undecided.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED in the last four years evidently is a steady swing toward the Republican nominee and his party by the labor voters not because they are less interested in trade union issues but because they are influenced more by broader questions such as economic contentment and international peace or, as in 1952, in making their protest against bungling of the Korean war and corruption in government under the Democrats.

The theory that the labor union members vote as their leaders tell them to vote holds good only to a degree. This pressure doesn't influence them all to go to the polls when they have no protest to make and likewise it doesn't persuade the wives of union members to vote against an administration which is trying to keep their sons from being drafted for actual combat in war.

The latest Gallup poll is confirmation of one of the oldest axioms in national politics, namely that basic and elemental factors of the broadest kind influence an electorate of more than 50 million voters. Highbrow arguments to which the so-called "intellectuals" so often attach great importance do not radiate very far into the electorate.

ALSO THE ATTEMPT to scare Russia is outstripping us in air power and could defeat us makes headlines and is widely printed, as it should be, when it comes from authoritative sources, but it's going to be hard for the Democrats to convince the country that a man who has given most of his life to military service has suddenly become careless about or indifferent to the nation's safety. The argument merely boomerangs.

The truth is the Stevensonites and the other Democratic aspirant are annoyed because they aren't making headway with this issue among the voters generally. They have tried also to confuse the people by arguing that the nation's foreign policy is weak or rudderless or contradictory but the number of people who care about anything else but the main achievement — the avoidance of a shooting war — is relatively insignificant.

The Gallup poll as just announced is the most sensational piece of political news printed in a long while. It is no surprise, of course, to professional politicans or to those who have studied intimately and objectively the course of many national campaigns.

IT WILL BE a surprise to those labor leaders who think that the vote of the rank and file in America can be controlled by a few men whose speeches on national issues either favor appeasement of Communist Russia or else the expenditure of more taxpayers' money to buy the goodwill of governments like that of India which profess not to know whether or not the Communists are cruel aggressors and ruthless colonialists or just crusaders for some form of state socialism.

Labor leaders will have difficulty trying to prove that the Republican party is hostile to the workingman when there are more people employed today and at higher wages than at any time in the history of the United States.

Ohioans Face Difficult Choice

By Raymond Moley

Republicans in Ohio are confronted with a most difficult choice in electing a senator this year. On the one hand there is the immensely popular governor, Frank Lausche. In past years Gov. Lausche, because of his strong conservative philosophy and his independent attitude toward the Democratic party in the state and in the nation, has received a very considerable proportion of the Republican vote. In 1950 when the Democratic nomination for senator went to a palpably unqualified man and the political arms of organized labor poured money and effort to elect this man over Sen. Taft, Gov. Lausche indicated his feelings by refusing to support his party candidate. Industrialists all over the state who are mostly Republican, love Gov. Lausche because of his labor policies. Republican affection for Gov. Lausche because of his manifestations of sympahty will be hard to overcome. There is, as one Republican put it, a matter of gratitude to be considered.

THERE IS ALSO A plain issue of competence. Sen. George Bender is an amiable, energetic man who came up on the rough road of precinct and county politics. Until a few years ago Republicans in Cleveland who were also men of substance and power in business did not regard Sen. Bender seriously. But during the Taft campaign in 1950 and later in the Taft effort for the presidential nomination these businessmen came to realize that the way to accomplish results was to work with and not independently of the regular Republican organization. That organization, such as it was, had been held together over the many lean years by Sen. Bender. Hence they decided to work with Sen. Bender, who, to be perfectly realistic, responded by greatly improving his political appeals and methodology. In short, Sen. Bender veered toward statesmanship.

MANY OF THE business leaders will contribute a good deal of time and money to the Bender campaign for re-election to the Senate. Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey is definitely supporting Sen. Bender and so is the Eisenhower administration. One of the prize Bender pieces of persuasion is a brochure of letters from the President and the 10 Cabinet members endorsing his candidacy.

Meanwhile, Gov. Lausche goes his inimitable way, giving offense to organization Democrats from National Chairman Butler down. He is a genuine admirer of the President and if elected would no doubt support most of his policies in the Senate.

It is just one vote that is the rub—the vote for organizing the Senate. In that determination, Gov. Lausche's vote would go to the Democrats, and control of the Senate in 1957 may hinge on one vote.

PERHAPS THE ISSUE before Republicans can be stated simply as a choice between man and party. It is important, very important, to the President to have a Republican Senate. All of the chairmanships may well go with the switch of one vote in the coming election.

Sen. Bender's stature as a statesman may leave something to be desired, but his vote to organize the Senate is as good as the best. Also, in the many tight votes in the future the President's party may well need regularity, and Gov. Lausche, despite his admiration for the President, may well have his own ideas on some presidential recommendations.

There is some worry among Sen. Bender supporters about newspaper support. Publishers and editors are not committed, but in the past the press has been substantially pro-Lausche. It will be a difficult choice for many newspapers.

Then there is the chance that Gov. Lausche may not be Sen. Bender's opponent after all. A veteran State House correspondent who has known Gov. Lausche for many years feels that there is a chance that in November Gov. Lausche could be the Democratic vice presidential candidate. But granting the desirability of Gov. Lausche on the national ticket it is, questionable whether he would give up his excellent prospect for a Senate seat to run on a ticket against Mr. Eisenhower.

Disarmament Parley Set

By David Barnett

WASHINGTON — A group of hard-boiled senators are planning a face - to - face meeting with the administration's most optimistic peacemaker, Harold E. Stassen.

The meeting between the "secretary of peace" and the special subcommittee on disarmament of the Senate foreign relations committee is tentatively set for June 7.

Stassen, who recently returned from disarmament discussions in London, has consistently taken a rosy view of prospects for pounding out a workable arrangement with the Russians for a reduction of armaments.

Members of the subcommittee have heard testimony from government officials and experts in the academic world. Most of the non-government sources, such as Prof. W. W. Rostow, of Harvard, have been pessimistic over chances of any practical agreement with the Reds and fearful over the false sense of security and unworkable agreement would instill.

MEMBERS OF the Senate group, which is headed by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D., Minn.), insist, however, that the hearing with Stassen will be held in a "friendly atmosphere" designed to generate light rather than heat.

The objective will be to obtain the "thinking" of Stassen and the special study staff to the President, which has been operating since April, 1955.

Studies made by the special staff, an interdepartmental group representing the State and Defense departments, the Atomic Energy, Commission and the government's intelligence agencies, are classified.

The purpose of the group is to think up ways that adequate disarmament could be achieved and to sift hundreds of ideas that come in to the government unsolicited.

One such idea was sent to the committee last month. It was a suggestion that the President's "Open Skies" plan for aerial reconnaissance be tried with a friendly nation to determine its effectiveness.

THE SUGGESTION was first made at a hearing in Cambridge, Mass., last month by Prof. Charles D. Coryell, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Both Sen. Humphrey and Sen. John O. Pastore (D-R.I.), the other member of the subcommittee who was present, were enthusiastic about the idea.

The "trial" proposal was presented to the full subcommittee in Washington and it was decided to send it to Stassen. So far, the presidential aide has made no reply.

Professor Coryell suggested that the inspection plan be tried for a year with a friendly neighbor such as Britain. At the end of the test period, the U.S. could tell the British what the inspection disclosed about their activity and the British could tell us where the plan missed.

Members of the subcommittee expect to get some reaction from Stassen on the proposal at the meeting.

Cable Brings Trouble

TRENTON, Ill. (AP)—Emery Weddel, who drove his tractor-trailer truck into a ditch in a heavy fog, tried to get it back on the road by stretching a steel cable from a winch on the truck across the busy highway to a tree.

Another big truck smashed into the steel cable and snatched Weddel's truck back onto the highway, where it jack-knifed and overturned. A car then plowed into the wreckage. Two other trucks took to a ditch to avoid the pileup. No one was seriously hurt.

Birds and Bees Relief Fund

This column's "Help-a-Swallow-Get-Back-to-Capistrano Fund" and "Rescue-a-First-Robin-Campaign" has met with warm support, but because a little warmer weather has eased the crisis in bird life over a large part of the nation we have decided to call a halt in the hope of weather fit for man and bird during June.

There was a wire from Capistrano saying that many swallows, smarter than many of our feathered friends, were already back, having returned on a north wind without public or Federal aid.

BUT THE APPEALS brought enthusiastic approval, one reader declaring it "the most humane idea in years and an outstanding recognition of the plight of birds and bees this spring." "I plan to hold a lemonade sale to help the funds," he wrote. "The 1956 First Robin was behind schedule and when he hit my yard he skidded 75 feet against the barn and would have been killed if a snowbank hadn't cushioned the blow. He has not behaved like a robin since and I believe he thinks he is a snowy owl or Arctic tern."

Other letters follow:

Dear Sir: Your Help-a-Swallow-Back-to-Capistrano and Rescue-a-Robin Fund is wonderful. All through May the swallows in my neighborhood were to be seen in the marshes instead of in the barns They were operating under the category of Canada Geese. I believe this is going to be like the famous summer of Nineteen-Hundred - and - Froze - to - Death, despite flashes of warmth, and that the place for swallows all during June and July will be in Capistrano and certainly not north of the Mason-Dixon line. I talked with a swallow last week and it declared disgustedly, "I could see things were tough all over before I got anywhere near the north. I should of stood in Bedford, Virginia, this season." Best wishes to your relief campaign.—P.K.L.

Dear Editor: I commend your fund to rescue birds this year, but I fear it is too late. Those that have survived have developed into "toughies" and are so hard-boiled they won't accept sympathy. I saw a little yellow crested sidewheeling dickcissel so hardened by its experiences that it refused the right of way to a very burly type hen-hawk.

—Yours truly, Edna M.

Sir: You are okay so far as you go, but I propose a fund to give First Aid to Year-Around Sparrows. The weather was so bad all spring that even these hardy northern birds had their morale shattered. And, believe it or not, on Memorial Day an Arkansas Scissor-Tailed Flycatcher was still nesting in an old racoon hat on my property, and giving the call of the Arctic Osprey.—J.D.D.

Coat Hanger, Rubber Band Save Tot's Life

CLEVELAND (AP) — Little Tina Fambro has enjoyed a year of happy and healthy life. She owes every minute of it to two doctors, a metal coat hanger and a rubber band.

Tina's first breath was a gasping one because nature had inflicted her with a caved-in chest. Her lungs were squeezed by her chest bones so that they couldn't expand properly.

Breathing continued to be a chore for Tina until her pediatrician, Dr. Robert Ostergard of Warren, Ohio, sent her to Cleveland Clinic.

There, Dr. Robert Mercer, chief of the pediatrics department, and chest surgeon Donald Effler, worked out the device which saved her.

From an old coat hanger, they fashioned a small bridge resembling a carpenter's horse. They wrapped this in white tape.

Then Dr. Effler took a single stitch in Tina's chest, looping the thread around her breast bone. He tied the thread to a rubber band and connected the band to the coat hanger bridge.

The elasticity of the rubber band kept an upward tension on Tina's breast bone and enabled her chest to develop in a normal manner.

Tina's condition is known as Atalctasis. A device similar to the one used on her is sometimes used on older patients, but Dr. Effler said the procedure is much more difficult and involved.

Tina has been home for some time now. Her pediatrician reports she's doing "just fine."

Visit by Raccoon In Home Is Ended By City Policeman

A raccoon with a destructive idea of fun gave a city policeman a bit of 'coon hunting practice Saturday.

Patrolman Floyd Wilson answered an early morning call to the residence of Larry Russell at 517 Ballentine Ave. where "Mr. Coon" was paying a "visit" — having entered the residence through an upstairs window

Before Patrolman Wilson arrived the raccoon had killed two pet birds, broken some dishes in the kitchen and ripped some curtains in other parts of the house.

Chased from the kitchen by Mr. Wilson, the raccoon then went down the street a short distance before climbing to the top of a tree.

Taking careful aim with his service revolver, Patrolman Wilson neatly ended any further destructive visits to any other residences by the ring-tailed vandal.

20-30 Service Club Holds State Meeting in Marion

Unit in Galion Receives New Charter at Dance; Ohio Officers Named

Chartering of a newly organized club in Galion, election of officers and presentation of awards highlighted a state meeting of the 20-30 International Service Club held here Saturday.

The chartering ceremony and presentation of awards was conducted at the intermission of a dance attended by approximately 200 men and their wives in the CIO Union Hall at Leader and Joseph Sts. Saturday night.

Officers were named at an afternoon business session.

TWO AWARDS were received by the local club. The club was presented a district expansion award and Carl Steiger, chairman of the Marion expansion program, received a trophy from the international club. Both awards were for the local club's assistance in the formation of the Galion club. A man-mile award for the most miles traveled went to the Wooster Club.

At the chartering ceremony Saturday night, state and local club officials presented the Galion club members with badges and lapel pins, their charter, banner and a gong and gavel. Making the presentations were Everett Miller of Wooster, state governor, Dave McGuire of Wooster, trustee of 20-30 International, and Mr. Steiger.

Don Baker, president of the Galion club, accepted the charter, banner and gong and gavel. Galion Mayor Francis C. Schalip welcomed the new club into Galion and welcoming remarks were given also by Earl Miller, president of the Galion Kiwanis Club.

OFFICERS OF THE 20-30 International Service Club are pictured talking over plans for chartering of a new club in Galion, which was a highlight of a state convention held here Saturday. They are (left to right): Dave McGuire of Wooster, trustee of 20-30 International; Carl Steiger of Marion, chairman of the local club's expansion program; Everett Miller of Wooster, outgoing governor of the club's Ohio district; Don Baker of Galion, president of the new club, and Walter Stockert of Wooster, new state governor.

WALTER STOCKERT of Wooster, outgoing state lieutenant governor, presided over the program. William Deskin, president of the Marion 20-30 Club, opened the program and announced the chartering of the Galion club.

Mr. Stockert was elected governor and Glenn Roby of Granville was named state lieutenant governor during the group's business meeting. It followed golfing at the Mar-O-Del course and a picnic by the men at the CIO Labor Hall. The men later golfed again at Mar-O-Del.

Nearly 50 20-30 Anns held a luncheon at the Federated Women's Home at which a style show, in which local club women served as models, and bridge highlighted the program.

Mansfield was chosen as the site of the winter convention in January. Members from clubs in Mansfield, Wooster, Millersburg, Ashland, Granville, Minerva, Massillon, Galion and Marion attended the state convention here.

Mack Finch's orchestra from Kenton provided music for the dance Saturday night.

Khrushchev

tening device put in Voroshilov's home.

These new details of Khrushchev's assault on the fallen dictator were disclosed today when the State Department released a 5,000-word version of the speech the current Communist boss made on Feb. 4-25 to a Soviet Communist party congress session.

"It is not excluded," Khrushchev said in the course of his speech which ran on after midnight, that had Stalin remained at the helm for another several months, comrades Molotov and Mikoyan would probably have not delivered any speeches at this (the February) congress.

"Stalin evidently had plans to finish off the old members of the Politburo . . . and in this way (provide) a cover for all shameful acts of Stalin, acts which we are now considering."

Tremendous Impact

Portions of the Khrushchev speech had come to light before but the document released today went far beyond anything previously reported as to the vehemence of the assault on Stalin.

The State Department said the document "is understood to have been prepared for the guidance of the party leadership of a party outside" of the Soviet Union.

American officials said the impact of the Khrushchev speech could best be understood if compared with the way an American audience would react to a denunciation of George Washington or Abraham Lincoln by a succeeding president.

In the course of the secret session, Khrushchev made these major points against Stalin:

1. Stalin used "terroristic methods against honest Soviet people" in order to establish his own power so that the present Soviet premier, Nikoli A. Bulganin once told Khrushchev "it has happened sometimes that a man goes to Stalin on his invitation as a friend. And when he sits with Stalin, he does not know where he will be sent next, home or to jail."

2. Stalin liquidated a long list of men who had worked with him including "eminent party and government leaders."

3. In the months before Nazi Germany's attack on Russia, Stalin ignored warnings from Prime Minister Churchill of Britain and from Soviet observers in Berlin that the attack was coming.

4. Stalin caused "annihilation of many military commanders and political workers during 1937-1941" because of suspicion.

5. On Jan. 20, 1939 Stalin messaged key government agencies throughout Russia "that the application of methods of physical pressure" by the secret police organization NKVD was definitely permissable. Thus he personally sanctioned "the most brutal violation of socialist legality, torture and oppression, which led as we have seen to the slandering and self-accusation of innocent people."

6. The founder of Communist Russia, V. I. Lenin had warned of Stalin's use of "brutal force."

7. Stalin had downgraded the party and collective party leadership and established "the cult of the individual."

8. Stalin was directly responsible for the break in relations between Russia and Yugoslavia in 1948—a situation for which Krushchev and Bulganin have been trying to make up by such things as Marshal Tito's present red carpet reception in Moscow.

Have 'Paid Dearly'

Stalin once told Khruschchev "I will shake my little finger — and there will be no more Tito, he will fall." But Tito did not fall and Khrushchev said "we have paid dearly for his 'shaking of the little finger'."

The version of the speech published by the State Department had notes on the behavior of the audience before which Khrushchev spoke.

Toward the end of the oration he declared that the attack on Stalin and the whole consideration of the Stalinist issue should be kept within the party and especially withheld from the press.

"It is for this reason," he said, "that we are considering it here at a closed congress session.

"We should know the limits; we should not give ammunition to the enemy; we should not wash our dirty linen before their eyes."

This was greeted with tumultuous applause according to the State Department's version of the meeting.

The New York Times and New York Herald Tribune had reported in today's editions that the paper was in the hands of the Western allies.

The translation shows that in addition to general accusations, Khrushchev specifically accused Stalin in the murder and torture of old Red comrades.

The old Soviet leader, Khrushchev charged, "used extreme methods and mass repressions at a time when the revolution was already victorious."

"Stalin was a very distrustful man, sickly suspicious," said Khrushchev who had worked for him and with him for many years.

"He could look at a man and say: 'Why are your eyes so shifty today?' or "Why are you turning so much today and avoiding to look me directly in the eyes?"

Saw Enemies Everywhere

"The sickly suspicion created in him a general distrust even toward eminent party workers whom he had known for years. Everywhere and in everything he saw 'enemies,' 'two facers' and 'spies.'

"Possessing unlimited power, he indulged in great willfulness and choked a person morally and physically. A situation was created where one could not express his own will."

Khrushchev specifically put full blame on Stalin for the great and bloody purges carried out in Russia in the mid-1930's.

"It is clear that these matters were decided by Stalin," Khrushchev declared, "and that without his orders and his sanction Yezhov (a secret police chief and one of the purge directors) could not have done this."

Stalin, Khrushchev said, designated individuals as "enemies of the people" and the secret police headed by Lavrenti Beria—who was purged by the present regime two years ago—"outdid itself in proving the guilt of the arrested and the truth of materials which it falsified.

Asks Common Sense

Summer Safety Rules Urged by Council Head

A plea to watch out when school is out was issued to vacationers today by Dr. Dean W. Roberts, executive director of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

He urged "common sense" precautions in his plea to keep children safe when they are out of the classroom and into the out of doors.

"Every summer, hundreds of children become unwilling statistics in the records of those who are crippled," Dr. Roberts said.

HE ADDED that while the national society spends Easter Seal funds to rehabilitate handicapped children and adults, it also believes in "the ounce of prevention" to reduce the crippling toll.

To help do so he listed safety measures to be observed in the home, on the highway and out of doors and directed them to parents, children and all other members of a community.

Those for parents were: 1. Set an example for children, take advantage of any opportunity to teach safety, 2. Keep guards around stairs, windows and backyard ponds, pools and cisterns or wells, 3. Don't let garages become storehouses of death for children. Store poisons such as insecticides, paint removers and thinners safely out of reach, 4. Clean up backyards, removing nails, broken boxes, boards and glass, make sure clotheslines are strung high, 5. Supervise burning of rubbish and do it on a windless day.

THE RULES FOR children: 1. Remember and practice safety rules learned at school, 2. Join a community class in swimming, wait an hour after eating before swimming, don't swim too far, 3. Be prepared for emergencies on hikes, fishing trips and boat rides, listen to the leaders' directions and follow them, 4. Stay away from unauthorized areas like ditches, dumps and junkyards and don't play around with farm machinery, 5. Be careful on the street, it is not a playground. Cross only with the green light at intersections, keep bikes in good repair and don't do stunts when riding them.

For the community as a whole: 1. Treat all children as though they are your own, 2. Obey all traffic signs and signals, slow down in play areas and be alert for the unexpected dash into the street, 3. Give cars complete check-ups for mercanical safety, 4. Don't drive too long on vacation trips, stop before fatigue hits, and 5. Plan community activities for children in which there is adult supervision.

Patrolman Resigns Post With Police Force Here

Resignation of William L. Drollinger, 30, of 817 Sheridan Rd. from the Marion Police Department was announced today by Acting Police Chief Justin Cornely.

In a brief letter, Mr. Drollinger said he was resigning effective June 9, but gave no reason for his action.

Inspector Cornely said he understood Mr. Drollinger was resigning to accept a better paying job in private industry.

A patrolman, Mr. Drollinger joined the police department slightly over five years ago on March 1, 1951.

Man Hurt in Fall

Robert Donley of the Campbell Rd. suffered a bruised back Sunday when he was knocked off a ladder while trying to take a bird nest off a high tension pole. He was knocked off the ladder and fell about 20 feet when his hand touched the high tension wire.

He was taken to Marion General Hospital in the Hughes ambulace and his condition today is reported to be "fair." Mr. Donley is a passenger engineer for the Erie Railroad.

California

campaign—one in which the candidate seeks to be all things to all people—or an aggressive, liberal campaign. . . ."

Regrets Personal Attack

Stevenson, who has consistently outdrawn his rival, declared before better than 1,600 persons at Oakland's Lake Merritt that he is stacking his bid for the presidential nomination on the issues.

He said he regretted to see "personal attacks" and "distorted facts" enter the California campaign. However, he added, he had no intention of discussing them "because in my opinion you people are not interested in a political sideshow.'

Stevenson has said the outcome here will do more than any other single election this spring to influence the choice of delegates at the Democratic presidential nominating session in Chicago next August.

In contrast, all Republican elements have joined in forming the single "unity" slate of 70 Republican delegates pledged to President Eisenhower. There's no legal machiner, for binding delegates to any choice for his running mate. Vice President Nixon has asked fellow Californians not to write in his name.

Voters can cast only their own party ballot in the presidential primary. Cross-filing still prevails in the state primary, however. Most of the 324 aspirants for 131 places in Congress and the State Legislature are seeking both nominations.

The run-on-any-ticket system has turned the primary race for U.S. Senate into a three-way affair. Former Rep. Samuel W. Yorty and State Sen. Richard Richards, both of Los Angeles, are the Democratic candidates. Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel cross-filed.

Three Plead Innocent To Delinquency Charge

Gene Lemasters, 24, near Marion, Frances Marie Mories, 24, of 976 N. State St., and Kermit Perry Massey, 19, near Marion, were arraigned in Juvenile Court this morning and pleaded not guilty to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. All were released on $50 bond each. A hearing for the woman was scheduled for Tuesday morning; the two men will be heard at 11 a.m. June 9.

All three were picked up early Sunday morning by sheriff's deputies in the company of a 13-year-old Marion girl. The girl is being held in the County Detention Home.

Jury Returns Verdict In Favor of Plaintiff

The trial, which began Thursday morning, was the result of an automobile accident Oct. 2, 1953, on Route 95 about seven and one-half miles west of Marion.

U Nu To Quit Post in Burma

Has Been Premier Of Country 8 Years

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Informed sources said Premier U Nu, who has headed the government of Burma since it won independence from the British eight years ago, will announce his resignation Tuesday.

The informants said he will name as his successor 41-year-old Ba Swe, defense minister and vice president of the Anti-Fascist Peoples Freedom League, Burma's ruling Socialist political party.

U Nu repotedly told his Cabinet he was quitting to devote full time to reorganizing the AFPFL. Informants said, however, he was getting out because he felt his foreign policy of neutral friendliness to all nations has failed. They added that he felt the Soviet and Red Chinese embassies in Rangoon were embarrassing his government with their operations in Burma.

than any other president in the last 4 years."

Michigan Democrats pledged their 44 national convention votes to Gov. G. Mennen Williams Saturday as a "favorite son" candidate on the first ballot, but gave little indication of what they might do on succeeding ballots.

The convention also adopted a "Michigan Declaration" pledging the party to work toward the total end of racial segregation, and a civil rights resolution proposing drastic means to eliminate segregation.

In Jackson, Miss., Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said fewer Negroes will vote for the Democrats this year than in 1952.

At a press conference, Wilkins said, "We are still hoping the Democrats will put through some of their campaign promises of 1952 during this session of Congress. It is their last chance to deliver."

Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament, Harold Stassen, said in a television interview he is not a candidate for the GOP vice presidential nomination "and I don't intend to be."

He said should the party want him for the job he would ask Eisenhower whether he shared that view.

Deadline Near on Costs Of Primary Campaigns

Political candidates who ran for nomination in the recent primary election have until 4 p.m Thursday to file statements of receipts and expenditures in connection with their campaign, according to county election board officials.

About 20 persons, including both Democrats and Republicans, together with a number of central committeemen, have yet to file these reports, board spokesmen say.

Five more persons have filed expense accounts with the bboard recently. They include Edward Stayner, Republican candidate for sheriff, $67; Clarence A. Keil, GOP candidate for county commissioner, $206; Harley H. Mayers, Democratic aspirant for county treasurer, $7.80; George W. Moore, Democratic candidate for sheriff, $30; and Margaret Howser, Republican candidate for clerk of court, $172.

The board cautions that those failing to file before the Thursday deadline cannot run for political office for five years, according to recent legislative action.

Faces Conduct Charge

W. N. Phillippi, 27, of 659½ W. Center St. was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct Saturday night by Marion police. He was slated to appear in Municipal Court at a later date.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Two persons were injured in two of seven weekend traffic accidents investigated by Marion police. Highway patrolmen reported one accident in the county.

Hurt when he was struck by a car at Church and High Sts. at 12:09 p.m. Saturday was Richard Ansley, 14, of 137 Chicago Ave. He suffered a cut finger on his right hand and sprains and bruises of his right arm and left hip.

The car was driven by Oran T. Tewell, 45, of 918 Oak Grove Ave., police said.

Tewell told police the boy ran out in front of his car as he was driving south across Church St. on High St. The boy required no medical treatment.

Roy Reese, 33, of near Peoria suffered five broken ribs when his car struck a parked car in the 1000 block on Davids St. at 1.50 p.m. Saturday, police reported. Reese was driving south and struck the parked car owned by Robert Leighty of 1049 Davids St., pushing it forward into and breaking off a utility pole, police said.

Reese told police he had reached for a package of cigarettes on the seat and lost control of his car, swerving to the right into the parked car. He was taken to Marion General Hospital for treatment and his condition is reported to be "fairly good."

A hit-skip collision occurred in the 800 block on Bennett St. at 10:55 p.m. Saturday. A car parked in front of 879 Bennett St. and owned by C. C. Waugh of 880 Bennett was struck by another unidentified vehicle, police reported.

Police said today that the hit-skip car was a 1948 or 1949 model Hudson painted green. It will have a chrome strip missing from the right side and the right front headlight rim will be missing, Patolman Floyd Wilson, said. Police asked anyone knowing the location or ownership of such a car to contact them.

Cars driven by R. L. Miller, 16, of 677 Florence St. and Charles Schaber, 66, of 451 Silver St. collided in the 800 block on N. Main St. at 7.10 p.m. Sunday, police reported.

Each of the other three accidents caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Car Leaves Highway

One no-injury, Marion County traffic accident was investigated by Marion State Highway Patrolmen over the weekend.

It occurred Saturday at 4:45 p.m. on Route 203, 3 8 miles north of Route 4, and involved one vehicle.

According to patrolmen, a car driven by Louis W. Keefer, 35, of 333 Blaine Ave., left the road on the righthand side and struck a warning sign, then returned to the highway. Keefer was northbound.

The right side of Keefer's car was damaged and the sign was knocked down, patrolmen said.

Boy, Man Injured In Falls on Street

Two persons, one a three-year-old boy, suffered deep cuts to their heads in separate accidental falls in the city over the weekend

The boy, Gregory Bruce of Delaware was hurt when he tripped and fell against a store front on E. Center St Saturday. He was taken to Marion General Hospital where some 30 stitches were required to close the cut. Police said he had been walking down the street with some relatives and was running ahead when he tripped.

The other person suffering a similar injury was P. E. Barcus of near Prospect. He fell down some steps at a W. Center St. restaurant Saturday night, according to the police report. Also taken to General Hospital for treatment, his injury required 10 stitches, according to the police report. Barcus was arrested on an intoxication charge after his release from the hospital, police reported.

Speakers will be Glenn Evans, general manager of the Whirlpool-Seeger Corp. Marion division plant, and LaVerne Kreuter, manager of the Quaker Oats Co. Marion division plant.

Mr. Kreuter will speak on benefits derived by his company and other experiences with the local Chamber during the last 11 years. Mr. Evans will talk on assistance offered his company in establishing the plant here and other experiences with the local Chamber.

Goal of the membership drive which will close June 12 is 300 new members, Hugh E. Webster, executive secretary said.

2 Men, Woman Slain in Toledo

Police Say Shooting Result of 'Triangle'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Two men and a woman were dead today as the result of a shooting in what police described as a domestic triangle.

They were listed by officers as Frank Tolson, 21; his estranged wife, Grace Lee Tolson, 19, and Harry Kedrie, 23.

The woman was killed last night in her apartment above a delicatessen operated by Kedrie on the city's south side. The men were shot on the sidewalk in front of the delicatessen.

The Tolsons' two young children, who were in the apartment when their mother was slain, were not harmed.

Police Capt. Allan Reya and Sgt. Kenneth Foss said this apparently is what happened:

Tolson learned that his wife had been keeping company with Kedrie and went to her apartment and shot her in the back with a 22 caliber revolver. Her body was found in a doorway.

Fleeing downstairs, Tolson was encountered by Kedrie, who was attracted by the shot, and they grappled on the sidewalk for the weapon.

Police said both men were dead when they arrived. Witnesses were not sure which man shot the other, but they said the gun still was in Tolson's hand.

keeping with those of the nation.

Eisenhower also was the principal speaker at cornerstone laying ceremonies for the building a year ago, when it was started before the labor merger as a home for the AFL.

Beginning Tuesday the 29 - man AFL-CIO Executive Council will hold a four-day meeting on politics, organizing problems and internal troubles

One of the first orders of business is an airing of AFL-CIO complaints against the Teamsters Union, the organization's largest member union. Teamster President Dave Beck stayed away from a special Executive Council meeting a month ago but is due to attend this week's sessions.

Beck's insistence on continued union relations with the International Longshoremen's Assn. has incurred the wrath of AFL-CIO President George Meany. The ILA was ousted by the former AFL for alleged gangster domination.

Another problem due for a showdown is the "go slow" order issued by the teamsters and building trades unions to their locals on supporting mergers of AFL and CIO state organizations.

Decorations were by student council members, with Mrs. Barbara Wilmeth in charge.

Farmers Union Hears Extension Agent's Talk

A meeting of the Marion County Farmers Union was held Saturday night at the YMCA with Edward Pfeiffer presiding.

In the business session, committee reports were given by Emmett Trout, Harold Klunk, Robert Aiken and George Howard.

In keeping with the observance of National Dairy Month in June, a talk was given by Ellwood Parrott, county agricultural extension agent, on milk and milk consumption. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be July 7 at the YMCA.

Meeting of Foremen Will Be at Eagles Hall

A meeting to elect seven members to the board of control of the Marion Foreman's Club of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Eagle's Hall.

Also featured will be a talk by Miss Jane Magruder, who will speak on the role of natural gas in industry. It was incorrectly reported in a story in Saturday's Star that the meeting would be held at Hotel Harding.

Ex-Policeman Held

CLEVELAND (AP)—A former policeman was held in jail today in connection with the rape of an 18-year-old girl in her apartment early Sunday. The 39-year-old man was fired from the police force in 1953 after a 16-year-old girl accused him of trying to rape her in a park. He was not identified by police.

Faculty Freedom By George Sokolsky

There seems to be a running debate on academic freedom, a term which when translated into accurate English means the right of a teacher to hold on to his job. Prof. Harold Barger of Columbia University is reported by that university's newspaper to have said in a debate that "fitness to teach, academic competence, is the only criterion upon which the tenure of a university faculty member should be considered."

SOKOLSKY

It is to be noted that Prof. Barger says nothing about character, moral conduct on and off the campus, suitability to associate with the young mind.

-:-

THE PHRASE, "fitness to teach," is not a helpful one because it is ambiguous. Is a man fit to teach, for instance, who knows his subject but is drunk when he comes to classes? Is a man fit to teach who has the highest academic reputation but who is also a lecher, chases pretty girls and is in a constant brawl with his wife?

It used to be very simple. The president and the board of trustees of a university decided such questions. That is harder to do these days, because teachers have tenure and they are banded together in a union which shouts, "Academic Freedom!" at the drop of a phrase. In fact Prof. Barger, in this same speech, is reported to have said that a teacher's academic competence should be judged by his peers, namely, the faculty. In a word, only teachers may decide what happens to teachers. What about the trustees of universities or the parents of students?

IN THIS CONNECTION, it is interesting to quote from the British Socialist, R.H.S. Crossman, who wrote:

"Having spent my life before the war as an academic, during the war as an expert and since then as a politician and a journalist, I have come to two conclusions: first, that political wisdom has very little to do with formal education and that character is a much more important element in it than either knowledge or quickness of wit . . ."

It is a very interesting point and reminds me of an episode years ago when I travelled about lecturing people on this and that. There was a lady chairman at one place who always gave an elaborate dinner at her home preceding the lecture and who always took pains to impress upon me that her husband was a nice man but rather on the dopey side because he was only a businessman.

SO ONE YEAR, I thought I would play a trick on her. I made inquiries about the husband and his business and discovered that in his field he was respected. During the several years that I came to this house, he was always silent, his wife picking up the conversational ball and running with it hither and yon, according to the latest book reviews.

Therefore on this occasion, I asked the husband a specific question in relationship to trade and the gold standard—it was long ago—and he spoke brilliantly and authoritatively on what he knew. Everybody was interested except his wife, of course, who had never thought of asking him a question.

The professors might learn something from the parents of students and even from the old alumni who are not anti-intellectual, as the professors pretend, but who may even be more expert than their erstwhile teachers.

AS MR. CROSSMAN said in his piece: "Education and expertise do not make those who acquire them 'proof against self-deception or political prejudice. Very often, by blunting natural common sense and inducing arrogance, they actually increase gullibility . . ."

It is not impossible that Mr. Crossman is correct, because it is like economics. The professors and experts lay down all the rules and laws, but a refugee arrives from somewhere in Europe, who does not even know our language, but who somehow discovers all the loopholes in our laws and regulations and by sheer common sense and flexibility, amasses many millions, so many that a committee of Congress wants to discover how it is being done.

I do not speak of any one man—there are many of them but none wear Phi Beta Kappa keys. They have not read David Ricardo or Adam Smith or Karl Marx or even John Maynard Keynes, but they know how to put this and that together and to operate an industry.

Pleasant Band Holds Yearly Festival

PLEASANT SCHOOL'S annual band festival will be held Thursday at 5:30 p.m. at the school auditorium. The affair is held for the benefit of the band organizations at the school. Members of the junior band shown here are learning the fundamentals of their music in preparation for the day when they can move up to the senior band. They are (seated left to right): Robert Radebaugh at the trumpet; Linda Strawser with the clarinet and Carol Ann Brown, alto saxophone. Behind them are David Hord (left) and Craig King waiting for their cue to join in. Proceeds from last year's festival were used to purchase new uniforms, several new drums and a baritone horn. The senior band will present a musical program during the affair which is sponsored by the Pleasant Band Parents Association.

A Lady 'Veep' By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

There is only one remaining obstacle to the election of a woman as vice president of the United States.

"It's men!" said Miss Lou Payne, the Joan of Arc of a new crusade to create a lady "veep". "They're against the idea merely because it's new.

HAL BOYLE

"Men like to think they run the country — which is all right, so long as they only think it."

Miss Payne, who is 30, green-eyed and pretty, left Mississippi to conduct a TV program for housewives in Chicago. Although a single lady herself she is also director of the Mrs. Homemaker's Forum a nonprofit organization which claims a million housewives as members.

Until recently the forum was content to trade household hints and work toward "elevating the status of the homemaker"—whatever that means.

THEN THE MEMBERS were surveyed as to whether they thought the United States needed a lady vice president. Well sir, 85 per cent of the housewives said it did, 5 per cent said no, and 10 per cent either had no opinion or were too busy wiping their children's noses to care.

Miss Payne took the results of the poll as a clear clarion call for action. Since then the housewife's forum has been bombarding politicians — from ward bosses to national party chairmen — with demands that they endorse skirt-wearing candidates for veep.

The petticoat brigade is deadly serious.

"It is probably too late for us to win in 1956," said Miss Payne, who says she has no political ambitions herself. "But we'll win in 1960.

"If it comes to the worst —if all else fails—we will march on Washington. That should prove effective."

The ladies aren't altogether altruistic.

"With a woman acting as the president's right hand man," remarked Miss Payne, "housewives would have a better chance for government recognition. For one thing, they could get social security. A housemaid has social security. Why shouldn't a housewife have it, too?"

—:—

AS TO THE REASONS why women in general should be given higher political posts Miss Payne made these points:

"There are more women than men voters, but they have less representation.

"Women control most of the spending in America. If they can control most of the money, why shouldn't they control the government?

"If England can have a queen, the least that U. S. women are entitled to is the vice presidency.

"Woman enjoy talking more than men, and the longer statesmen talk the less chance there is they will go to war."

In their poll the members of the housewife's forum named as possible candidates for lady "veep" the following, in order: Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce, and Frances E. Willis, ambassador to Switzerland.

Mrs. Roosevelt rather pulled the rug out from under the ladies by writing in a magazine that she felt the time wasn't ripe yet for a woman vice president. The forum has chided her for this view and is seeking to change her opinion.

If it's a good idea to have a lady veep, why not break completely with political tradition and elect a woman as President and another woman as head of the United Nations.

"One thing at a time," said Miss Payne, her eyes gleaming with visions of distant feminine victories.

Iowa Primary Has 2 Guides Of GOP Power

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa's voting in today's primary election is being watched nationally for two guides, although the indications are it doesn't bear the importance nationally of the balloting in some of the larger states.

One of the highpoints is the contest for U.S. senator and how it may reflect the attitude of residents of this state toward President Eisenhower's farm program and policies.

Vote Totals Watched

The other guide will be the Republican and Democratic vote totals which could indicate the President's strength now compared with 1952.

But Iowa, which does not have a provision for a presidential preference in its primary, will not offer any indication of the relative strength of two Democratic presidential aspirants — Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

The big Iowa showing will be what some may regard as an indirect test of the administration on agricultural matters in this hub state of the Farm Belt.

It comes between Sen. B. B. Hickenlooper's contest for Republican renomination with Iowa Atty. Gen. Dayton Countryman.

Seeking Third Term

Hickenlooper, 59, and seeking a third term in the Senate, has cited his support of Eisenhower policies and has stressed during his campaign the new soil bank program and his amendment increasing acreage allotments. The senator has backed the administration, including the flexible farm price support plan.

Countryman, 38, has campaigned for high rigid price supports and has criticized Hickenlooper's vote for the natural gas bill.

Contesting for the Democratic senatorial nomination are R. M. (Spike) Evans, 65, former national AAA administrator and Federal Reserve Board member, and Lumund F. Wilcox, 43, an attorney.

Gov. Leo Hoegh, seeking Republican nomination for a second term, has no opposition. There are two Democratic candidates for the gubernatorial nomination.

2,500 Turn Out For Civil Defense Test in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Only half of the anticipated crowd of 5,000 turned out in Sunday's chill rain for the Cuyahoga County civil defense organization's mass feeding exercise.

The idea was to demonstrate how food could be prepared and served to hundreds of persons in a comparatively short time under simulated "disaster conditions."

John J. Pokorny, county civil defense coordinator, and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze agreed that the exercise achieved its aim and was "worthwhile."

Cooks sloshed around in ankle-deep mud. The food, donated by local merchants, was prepared in makeshift equipment and served on paper plates. The menu included barbecued beef, mashed potatoes, baked beans, chef's salad, bread, apple butter, coffee, milk, and ice cream.

Water was brought in glass-lined milk trucks. Several large cans of baked beans were prepared in Detroit and flown to Cleveland Hopknis Airport for delivery to the lakefront exercise area by helicopter.

Veteran Newsman Dies

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Veteran newspaperman Jack C. York, 54, died of a heart attack in his hotel room here Sunday.

York was Ironton correspondent for WLW-TV in Cincinnati and for the United Press.

Previously he had worked on the Huntington (W. Va.) Herald-Dispatch and the old Ironton News.

Woman Slain Mysteriously In Niles, Mich.

NILES, Mich. (AP)—A small-caliber bullet taken from the body of Mrs. Marion Davenjay seemed the only apparent lead today in the slaying here of the attractive secretary to the Canadian consul at Chicago.

The 27-year-old woman was found dying on the steps of a Niles nightspot early Sunday morning, a bullet through her heart.

She had just left her date and another couple in the supper club less than 15 minutes before to pick up some beer at a tavern across the highway. She got the beer and apparently was fatally wounded while recrossing the four-lane highway.

Police Chief Arthur N. Pears cleared her date, Gene McClane, a magazine salesman at South Bend, Ind., about 12 miles south of Niles. Witnesses said Pears remained in the supper club while Mrs. Davenjay crossed the highway.

Mrs. Davenjay, an American citizen, left Chicago by train late Saturday to meet McClane. McClane told Pears he had not seen her since 1948 when he worked at the same concern with Mrs. Davenjay and her estranged husband.

The young brunette's husband, Joseph Davenjay, was questioned by police at New Orleans and reworked for the Canadian consul leased. The slain woman had at New Orleans before her transfer to Chicago six months ago.

The police chief said Mrs. Davenjay had apparently never been to South Bend before Saturday. He said the .22 caliber bullet which killed her may have been a stray shot or was possibly fired by someone who mistook her for someone else.

The slaying occurred outside Club 66, a well known western Michigan supper club

Man Held in Shooting

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Police today were holding a 20-year-old youth in connection with the shooting of Miss Anne Persutti, 18, at her home early Sunday. He denied the shooting.

Miss Persutti was reported in fair condition at Mercy Hospital with wounds in the abdomen, forearm and right shoulder. Police said another young man was with her at the time of the shooting.

Union County Man Leads Democrats

William Coleman Holds State Chairman Post For Election Year

By JOHN ROBSON
Marion Star State Editor

MARYSVILLE — Guiding the Democratic Party in Ohio in this presidential election year is the responsibility of a Union County attorney-farmer, William Coleman.

Mr. Coleman was picked last month by gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle as the Democrats' state chairman. His appointment was confirmed on May 23 by the state executive committee of the party.

A heavy load is on the shoulders of the new chairman. He is responsible for organizing the overall Democratic campaign in Ohio and then keeping it going through Election Day.

HIS TASK IS to direct the selling of the voters on the qualified Democratic candidates and the party s platform.

Mr. Coleman will work on a local, state and national level. Locally he declared his main job will be to assist the county organizations whenever possible in their efforts to elect Democratic candidates. The same is true on the state level for men such as Mr. DiSalle.

On the national level Mr. Coleman will be the liaison man between local groups and the presidential candidate and other national speakers. If a group in Ohio wishes to hear the Democratic presidential nominee speak, Mr. Coleman is the man to try to arrange such a talk.

At the present time the Democratic official has an office set up in Columbus at the Neil House Hotel. He plans to move in the future to larger quarters.

RIGHT NOW THERE are only three assistants working in that office. They are A. W. Minneni, Mr. Coleman's personal assistant; Miss Dixie Bradford, his private secretary; and Mrs. Antoinette Moats, receptionist and part-time stenographer. There will probably be more as the campaign progresses.

While the job of Mr. Coleman will be to organize the campaign in Ohio, it will be the job of a Dayton man to raise the funds needed for the election. George L. Flanigan Jr. of Dayton is treasurer of the state executive committee and responsible for money matters.

Mr. Coleman who is 42 and lives on a 100-acre farm two and one-half miles southwest of Marysville, was born in Union County and raised on a farm. He still considers farming his chief claim to fame.

Because of the press of his law duties and now of his duties in Columbus to the Democrats, Mr. Coleman has had to turn over the raising of the crops on the farm to a neighbor. His two oldest sons, though, have the farming spirit and are in charge of raising the beef cattle herd on the place.

Mr. Coleman attended the Lutheran Parochial School in Marysville eight years, then Marysville High School. He took pre - law courses at Ohio Northern University and his law work at Ohio State University. He was graduated in 1939 and was admitted to the bar in August of that year.

HE BEGAN HIS practice in Marysville just one month later. On Nov. 23, 1940 he married a Columbus girl, the former Rose Anna Green. The couple now has six children, William, 13; Thomas, 11; Charlotte Marie, 9; Stephen 7; Rose Anna, 4, and Michael, 1.

Mr. Coleman said he has known Mr. DiSalle for the last 10 years. He said he was probably picked by Mr. DiSalle to be chairman of the party because of his activities in the Young Democratic circles in the last decade.

Mr. Coleman was prosecuting attorney of Union County between 1941 and 1949. He was permanent chairman of the Young Democratic State Convention four different times and was permanent chairman of the Young Democratic National Convention when it was held in Cleveland in November, 1947.

MR. COLEMAN HAS been a member of the Young Democratic State Executive Committee for 12 years. He made the jump from the Young Democratic organizations to the senior group a big one, for the new post he just assumed is his first office in the senior Democratic party.

Mr. Coleman is optimistic over Mr. DiSalle's chances in the forthcoming election campaign. He said that if Mr. DiSalle can meet enough people he "will sell himself." Mr. Coleman stated that the candidate for governor is a "devoted, sincere, dedicated good government man."

The new state chairman would not go out on a limb and forecast the winner of the Democratic presidential nomination. He declared the race is "wide open" and no candidate has enough of an edge to claim victory yet. Mr. Coleman may have a chance to decide the presidential nominee He is an alternate delegate-at-large to the National Convention.

The grind of the election year campaigning already has begun to have its effects on the Marysville area man. During the last week he was in Columbus four of the first five days of the week. He expects to spend even more time there as soon as he can more thoroughly organize his new post.

He commutes between his home, his office in Marysville and Columbus nearly every day. His wife said she doesn't mind too much as long he's home once in a while.

NEW STATE CHAIRMAN of the Democratic party is William Coleman, Marysville attorney and Union County farmer. Mr. Coleman was appointed state chairman last month after being selected by Michael V. DiSalle. Mr. Coleman will have the job of organizing and carrying out the Democrats' campaign this year. Here he checks the schedule of activities at his law office in Marysville.

Accident Toll Hits 17 in Ohio Over Weekend

Boy, 2, Youth, 14, Are Killed by Autos Driven by Policemen

By The Associated Press

Policemen played a part in raising Ohio's weekend highway death toll.

A two-year-old boy was struck and killed by a car driven by an off-duty police captain in Lakewood. A 14-year-old boy met a similar fate in Woodmere when a police chief's car—chasing a speeder—hit the youth.

11 Dead in Traffic

An Associated Press survey from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed at least 17 persons killed accidentally in the state, 14 in traffic.

Two similar but separate accidents in Cincinnati killed a 35-year-old man and a three-year-old boy. Both fell down flights of stairs.

An Akron man drowned in Portage Lake when a motorboat engine started suddenly, hurling him into the water.

The list of fatalities:

Friday night:

Harley Bowling, about 35, Cincinnati, in a fall down the stairway of a rooming house there.

Saturday:

James Brice Harris, 19, Rt. 3, Galion, and Larry Greene, 17, Wakefield, in a headon collision of two cars on Ohio 104 in Pickaway County.

Mrs. Elsie Ivers, 60, Youngstown, in a two-car collision on U.S. 42 northeast of New California in Union County.

Timothy Greenrod, 2, Lakewood, struck by a car driven by an off-duty police captain as the boy tried to retrieve a shot lost in the street.

Alex Kozma, 14, Woodmere, struck by a car driven by Orange Police Chief Charles Vajner who was chasing a speeder through Woodmere (Cuyahoga County).

Richard Eugene Osborn, 3, Cincinnati, in a fall down a flight of stairs in his home.

Stephen I. Coleman, 45, his wife, Mabel, 32, and Mrs. Mary Hunt, 43, all of Fostoria, when their auto hit a train at a grade crossing five miles west of Port Clinton. Mrs. Hunt died Sunday.

Jack Stillman, 11, North Kingsville, struck by an auto while riding a bicycle near his Ashtabula County home.

Leroy Foulks, 25, Akron, drowned when a stalled motorboat engine started suddenly, hurling him into the west reservoir of Portage Lake.

Chester E. Riley, 24, Windham, thrown out of an auto which left Ohio 303 near the Ohio Turnpike overpass near Warren.

Sunday:

John W. McCloskey, 26, Canton, when his car crashed into a ditch off U.S. 62 about 4½ miles east of Canton.

Mrs. Josephine Bielopetrovich, 37, Cleveland, struck by a hit-skip driver in the city.

Joseph Vinciguerra, 63, and his wife, Nancy, 52, Cleveland, in a three-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 20 and Ohio 306 about eight miles southwest of Painesville.

Two Minor Accidents Investigated in Galion

GALION — Cars were damaged, but no one injured in accidents reported Saturday and Sunday in Galion.

Floyd Edward Tucker of Galion, was cited for failure to yield the right of way by passing on the wrong side of a car driven by Martin F. Karl of near Crestline. The accident occurred at the intersection of the State Road and Harding Way W. at 7:55 p.m. Saturday. Mr. Karl's car was damaged on the right front fender and door, and Mr. Tucker's car had the left front fender damaged, police said.

In the accident Sunday at 12.48 p.m. a car driven by John Thompson Chase of Galion, struck the rear of a car driven by John Johnson of Galion on Harding Way E., at the New York Central railroad crossing police reported Johnson's car had slight damage to the radiator and Chase's car was not damaged, according to police.

Home of School Head Bombed in Sciotoville

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Police today were investigating a bombing of the front yard of Sciotoville East High School Principal T. W. Smith. The blast occurred early Sunday about eight feet from the residence in nearby Sciotoville. No one was injured and there was only minor damage to the house.

Smith could give no reason for the bombing. Police said the bomb, apparently tossed from a care, tore a hole four inches square in the sidewalk leading up to the front porch.

Indians Drop to Third in Split With Washington

Vic Wertz Cracks Homer In 12th for Opening Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cleveland Indians were back in third place in the American League today after splitting a doubleheader with the Washington Nationals.

Vic Wertz gave the Indians an 8-4 victory in Sunday's first game by blasting a three-run homer in the 12th inning, but they dropped the nightcap, 7-1, and fell a half game behind the Chicago White Sox, who won two games from Baltimore.

Gain on Yanks

Both the Indians and White Sox gained on the league-leading New York Yankees, who lost a pair to the Detroit Tigers.

Wertz hit three singles in addition to his homer and drove in four runs in the opener. His single in the eighth gave the Tribe a 4-4 tie and sent the game into extra innings.

Early Wynn, trying for his sixth victory, was knocked out in the sixth with the Nationals leading 4-2. Washington catcher Lou Berberet broke a scoreless deadlock with a home run in the fourth, but Bob Avila gave the Indians a 2-1 lead two innings later by hitting a homer into the left field bullpen after Wynn had walked.

In the last of the sixth, Jim Lemon put Washington back in the lead, 3-2, with a liner into the left field bleachers with Karl Olson on base. Another run that inning finished Wynn and Ray Narleski was called in to get the side out.

Hegan Hits Homer

Jim Hegan hit a homer in the seventh and in the eighth, with two out, Al Smith doubled and scored the tying run on a single to left by Wertz.

Bob Chakales, who replaced Camilo Pascual on the mound for Washington in the eighth, held the Indians scoreless for three innings. But in the 12th he walked Avila and Smith, and Wertz followed with his 10th homer of the season, a blast into the center field bleachers. A double by Sam Mele and a single by Jim Busby gave the Indians another run that inning.

Cal McLish, who entered the game in the 11th, pitched two hitless innings and was credited with the victory, his first as a member of the Indians.

Don Mossi, making his first start of the season in the nightcap, rolled along comfortably until the fourth inning when Washington scored four runs, three of them after Mossi made a wild throw to third base. The loss gave him a 1-1 record for the season.

The victory went to Hal Griggs, a rookie righthander. It was his first major league triumph against two losses.

The current series between the two teams will end tonight with Mike Garcia scheduled to start for the Tribe in quest of his fourth victory against five losses. He will be opposed by Pedro Ramos, who has a 3-2 record.

Marlene, Alice Bauer Top Women Links Stars

PITTSBURGH (AP) —The famed Bauer golfing sisters are a little richer today, with Marlene picking up $1,350 for first prize in the Churchill Valley Women's Invitational Golf Tournament and Alice pocketing $855 in tying for scond place.

Marlene, a resident of Asheville, N. C, shot a sparkling 71 Sunday despite inclement weather to finish with a 72-hole total of 293.

Sister Alice, of Sarasota, Fla., was posting a final round of 73 to give her a 298 total and a second place tie with Fay Crocker, U. S. Women's Open Champ from Montevideo, Uruguay.

Singapore stands on a 220-square-mile island.

Armstrong Recovering After Attack at Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Rev. Henry Armstrong, only man in boxing history to hold three titles at the same time, was reporting making satisfactory progress toward recovery today.

The fight great was stricken Saturday night at his home and suffered a mild convulsive seizure which one doctor described as similar to "a bad stomach ache."

Reds Crack 4 Homers, Break Even

CINCINNATI (AP)—The "right hit at the right time" is still a little hard for the slugging Cincinnati Redlegs.

A timely belt would have sent the Reds toward victory in their last two losses to the New York Giants, the most recent one in the nightcap of Sunday's doubleheader.

The Reds were behind 4-1 in the ninth inning of the game when they came to life at the plate. Gus Bell smashed his second homer of the game, scoring Johnny Temple.

That made it 4-3 and the heavy end of the Redleg batting order was coming up. The Giants walked big Ted Kluszewski and third-sacker Ray Jablonski—leaving a good spot for a single to tie or win the game.

But catcher Ed Bailey, one of the most consistent Redlegs at the plate, flied out to Willie Mays to end the game.

The Giants pieced together a single run in the fifth inning, two more in the seventh and the winning tally in the ninth.

It was a different story in the first game when the Reds nailed down a 7-3 victory with a pair of two-run homers and a group of eight other hits.

The homers came from rookie Frank Robinson and Jablonski, Jablonski's in the sixth inning with big Klu on second, and Robinson's in the seventh with pitcher Johnny Klippstein on base.

The Philadelphia Phillies turn in here tonight for the first of four games. Art Fowler is slated to oppose Saul Rogovin on the mound.

Moore Ready For Title Bout

By The Associated Press

A pair of fights that could lead to a September final for the vacant heavyweight title are on tap this week.

In London Tuesday night Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champion and self - appointed No. 1 heavyweight, defends his 175-pound crown against Trinidad's Yolande Pompey in a 15-rounder. The 39-year-old champ from San Diego, Calif., is a 4-1 favorite to dispose of the 27-year-old 170-pounder.

On Friday night in New York's Madison Square Garden, Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, 24-year-old New Yorker and No. 2 heavyweight, opposes Floyd Patterson, 21, once-beaten Brooklyn prodigy, in a 12-round elimination scrap.

Tonight's TV headliner matches a couple of good offensive fighters in Tex Gonzalez, East Orange, N.J., and Hardy (Bazooka) Smallwood, Brooklyn, at New York's St.Nicholas Arena. Gonzalez has a 21-5-1 record compared to Smallwood's 17-5-2.

Littler Leads Texas Open in Closing Round

DALLAS (AP)—Gene Littler, the cool and calculating Californian who's at his best when the stakes are high, led the $70,000 Texas International Open into its final round today with a 2-stroke bulge over Cary Middlecoff, the deliberate dentist from Memphis.

Littler, ex-amateur king from Singing Hills, Calif., who has won some of golf's biggest purses in his three years as a professional, will be after $13,478 first money. He takes a 54-hole total of 197 into the last round.

The 25-year-old links star rode easily into the lead in the Texas International Sunday. He started the third round tied with Roberto de Vicenzo, the Argentine who is pro at the Mexico City country club. Each had 130 for 36 holes. Gene strode through a 3-under-par 67 over the soggy, 6,216-yard Preston Hollow Country Club course.

De Vicenzo had nothing but trouble on the front nine and came in with a par 70.

Middlecoff shot a 2-under-par 68 and pulled into second place with 199. De Vicenzo had to be satisfied with third with 200.

Ernie Vossler, young Fort Worth star, laid down a 66 to romp into a tie for fourth with Tommy Bolt, the tempestuous club thrower from Houston, and Sam Snead, the noted slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who was the pretournament favorite.

Bolt shot a 67 and Snead 68.

Tag Day Sale Nets $1,650 for Baseball Program in City

A total of $1,650 was raised during the Baseball for Boys Commission's two-day tag sale Friday and Saturday.

Players on the Little League and Pony League clubs sold the tags on downtown streets and a commission spokesman today praised Marion citizens for their cooperation. "We wish to thank everyone who responded so generously in making the tag sale such an outstanding success," a spokesman said.

"The residents of Marion and the surrounding area showed they are interested in the youth of this community and that they want to see the baseball program continued and expanded," the speaker added.

The boys and their adult helpers collected the money Friday and Saturday and Friday night. Mac's Trading Post, American League entry, took top honors in the collection with a total of $221. Wilhelm led the National Leaguers with $185 while Pony Leaguers were topped by Alloy Cast Steel with $158.

Ellis Wilson and Harold Henry served as co-chairmen for the tag day sale.

Wildlife Problems Discussed by Ohio Sportsmen League

Members of the League of Ohio Sportsmen board of directors and trustees discussed state and national problems at a monthly meeting Sunday at the Highway Hotel.

Approximately 30 representatives of the board and club members from throughout the state attended the meeting.

Discussion was held on conservation problems in various areas and legislative problems, both state and national, by the sportsmen. Two representatives of the Federal Wildlife service presented a lengthy talk on the banding of mourning doves. As part of a national census, Ohio clubs are being asked to band the legs of the birds.

A picnic and fishing Saturday afternoon and evening informally opened the meeting at the Fin & Wing Club's grounds at Owens Quarry.

Pittsburgh Battles Braves To Standstill in NL Chase

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

For 145 golden minutes, the giddy Pittsburgh Pirates led the National League Sunday afternoon before losing the second half of a double-header.

Bobby Bragan's upstarts finished the day six percentage points behind Milwaukee, and it would take a brave man to predict they never again would hit the top.

The Pirates, whose careening journey from the depths of the cellar has excited the nation, actually lead Milwaukee by half a game in the won-and-lost figures. Due to a difference in total games played (40 by Pittsburgh, 33 by Milwaukee), the Braves hold the edge in percentages.

Slugger Stopped

Milwaukee's muscular home run hitters had smashed 14 in their last three games and 16 in their last four until Pirate pitching clipped their wings. With Bob Friend, Red Munger, Ronnie Kline, Roy Face, Nelson King, Vern Law and Jack McMahon doing their tricks, not a single Milwaukee homer was hit in the four-game series.

When Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee in the first game 3-1 it was the first time they had been in first place since June 16, 1948, when they shared the lead with the then Boston Braves. A two-run uprising in the sixth broke up a tight battle between Face, getting his first start after 15 games in the bullpen, and Milwaukee's Ray Crone. King finally came in to stop the Braves in the ninth with men on second and third and only one out.

Pittsburgh almost pulled out the second game against Bob Buhl but finally bowed 4-3. The Pirates closed the gap to one run in the seventh and had two men on in the ninth with two out when Gene Freese grounded out. The defeat was charged to Law, who gave up all Milwaukee's runs.

Old teammates took turns working out on their former buddies at St Louis. After Murry Dickson, an ex-Phil, pitched the Cardinals to a 2-1 edge over the Phils' Robin Roberts, the Phils came back for an even break 9-3 behind Harvey Haddix, an ex-Cardinal. Richie Ashburn had five hits in the second game.

Dodgers End Slump

Brooklyn awoke from its Chicago slumber after losing three straight to the cellar team and knocked off the cubs 4-3. Clem Labine had to bail out bonus pitcher Sandy Koufax in the ninth.

The American League "runaway" became more of a pennant race when Detroit dumped the leading New York Yankees twice 6-3 and 7-4 in 10 innings. The results cut the Yanks' lead to 4½ games over Chicago, which took over second by thumping Baltimore in two games 12-0 and 9-2. Cleveland dropped to third in a split at Washington. The Tribe took the first in 12 innings 8-4 with the help of Vic Wertz's three-run homer but Washington won the second 7-1 behind Hal Griggs. Kansas City eked out a 7-6 edge over Boston in 10 innings on Tim Thompson's winning single.

Detroit ran its winning streak to six games and eight of the last nine to earn a fourth-place tie with Boston, only 6½ games off the pace. The Tigers knocked out Whitey Ford in the opener, the first time he failed to go the route in nine starts this season. Billy Hoeft exercised his usual charm over the Bombers, scattering nine hits. Bill Tuttle knocked in the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning of the second game.

Donovan, Nelson Win

Dick Donovan of the White Sox shut out the Orioles with seven hits in the first game at Baltimore and Jim Wilson, an ex-Oriole, held them to four hits for the sweep. Bob Nieman ruined Wilson's shutout chances with a two-run homer in the fourth.

Thompson's winning single in the 10th for Kansas City was his third hit of the game. Ineffective relief work by Dave Sisler and George Susce cost Boston the game.

Marsh Sent to Coast

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles today sent infielder Freddie Marsh to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League on 48-hour recall and re-signed infielder Bobby Adams who had been given his outright release less than two weeks ago.

Weekend Fights

Hollywood — Roger Rischer, 183, Oakland, stopped Charley Powell, 207, Los Angeles, 7.

Miami Beach, Fla. — Rudy Ortega, 126, Havana, outpointed Johnny O'Brien, 126, Boston, 10.

Bantam Ben Seeking Fifth Title in National Open Play

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—If Ben Hogan ever is to become the only golfer to win five National Open championships his feat may have to be achieved over the tough Oak Hill Country Club's East Course here June 14-15-16.

It was over this same course in the 1942 Rochester Open that Bantam Ben of Fort Worth, Tex., shot a record 64

That day, just before dusk, Jimmy Demaret drove by the practice tee and was amazed to see his pal Hogan hitting balls.

Demaret thought it was a gag. Hogan didn't.

"I think I can do better," said the precision-minded Hogan.

BEN GOT $1,000 for his 278 victory when $1,000 seemed like $20,000 to Hogan—and to most everybody else. Craig Wood was second with 281 It was the last of two opens here In 1941 Sam Snead won the Rochester Times - Union Open with 277, beating Hogan by seven shots.

In April at the Masters in Augusta, Hogan said he was undecided about playing in the Open. Following his loss in the playoff with Jack Fleck at Olympic last June, Hogan said he was retiring. But he filed his 1956 entry, even after his poor—for him—296 and an eighth place tie in the Masters.

Hogan still wants to win that fifth Open. He knows his legs, badly injured in a 1949 auto-bus crash, lack the stamina for four rounds, especially the last 36 holes the final day. And he knows at 43—he'll be 44 on Aug. 13—he is beyond the shadows of his great career. But like a great champion, he can't quit He likes the long course, especially since he has played it before The East Course measures 6,902 yards, and it has been long courses over which Ben has won four times.

HE WON AT Riviera (7,020 yards), Merion (6,694), Oakland Hills (6,927) and Oakmont (6,916). He still has the shots and the knowhow to keep close to par 70 over the course carefully groomed by turf superintendent Elmer Michael.

Oak Hill offers a challenge right from the first tee for the hole is a par 4 of 445 yards.

"It's the toughest starting hole I have ever played," says Ben.

Hogan is one of 16 automatic qualifiers because he is one of five to win recent Opens. Others in that qualifying class are defending champ Jack Fleck, Ed Furgol, a nonwinner since scoring in 1954, Julius Boros and Cary Middlecoff.

FOR FINISHING high up in 1955, Shelley Mayfield, Sam Snead, Masters champ Jack Burke, PGA champ Doug Ford, Tommy Bolt, Bob Rosburg, Mike Souchak, Bud Holscher and Frank Stranahan qualify. Amateur champ Harvie Ward and two-time British Open winner Peter Thompson also made it without worrying about qualifying rounds.

Charley McKenna is eligible but the Oak Hill pro will not compete He's just going to stand by and watch the fun.

The golfer close to 280 will get the dough, says USGA executive director Joseph C. Dey Jr., who puts Oak Hill in the same category with Merion, Oakmont, Baltusrol and Olympic—all rugged championship layouts.

1,800 Golfers Seek Spots in U.S. Open Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes ran high today for some 1,800 golfers around the country who teed off in the qualifying round of the U.S Open Golf Championship. Most of the top players, however, won't try until Tuesday in Dallas.

The sectional qualifying rounds were played at 24 sites across the nation with 108 places to be filled for the big tournament, scheduled for the Oak Hill Club in Rochester, N.Y., June 14-16.

Only 16 players are exempt from qualifying among the record 1,934 entries.

They include the last five winners of the title — defending champion Jack Fleck, Ed Furgol, Ben Hogan, Julius Boros and Cary Middlecoff—PGA champion Doug Ford, amateur champion Joe Conrad, British Open champion Peter Thomson and the low 10, exclusive of ex-champions, in last year's tournament. That list includes Sam Snead, Tommy Bolt, Bob Rosburg, Bud Holscher, Mike Souchak, Jack Burke, Frank Stranahan and Shelley Mayfield.

Mutscheller Signs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jim Mutscheller, leading pass catcher of the Baltimore Colts last year, signed his 1956 contract today for a third National Football League season.

The former Notre Dame captain caught 34 passes for 518 yards in 1955. He scored seven touchdowns to rank third on the team in scoring.

Villanova Ace Nearing Mark In Shot Event

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Villanova's Don Bragg has sharpened his challenge to the world pole vault record of 15 feet 7¾ inches that Cornelius (Dutch) Warmerdam set 14 years ago.

Still improving, Bragg bettered the national collegiate outdoor record Saturday night when he cleared 15-3¾ in winning at the AAU Pacific Assn. meet. The record, 15-1¾, was set in 1951 by Don Laz, formerly of the University of Illinois.

Bragg's vaulting, shot putting by champion Parry O'Brien and the double spring victory of Duke's sophomore Dave Sime highlighted the meet. Also there was the driving finish that won the 800 for Villanova's Ron Delany who the night before had run a mile in 3:59

O'Brien, after winning with a throw of 60 feet, ¼ inch, uncoiled a tremendous extra put and the 16-pound ball traveled the farthest ever — 61-8¼ — but it goes into the books only as an exhibition since he had used his official chances for the night O'Brien's official record is 60-10. He has an outdoor 61-1 and an indoor 61-5¼ awaiting official approval.

Sime won the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds with a gust of aiding wind measured at 4.75 m.p.h., just a breath above the 4.473 allowable for the mark to be submitted as the second time the big sprinter had tied the official world record

The Duke speedster won the 220 in 20.4 seconds, two-tenths off the accepted world record which he had smashed earlier this season with a 20.1.

Villanova's Delany, the student from Ireland, flew here after his thrilling mile victory at Compton. Despite air sickness and a bumping in the field of 17 during the race, he finished fast with 1.49.5 to nip former NCAA champion Lang Stanley in the 880.

Neither J. W. Mashburn of Oklahoma A&M nor 440 record-breaking Jim Lea of the Air Force competed. The Aggie suffered a pulled leg muscle at Compton. Lea, complained of recurring soreness in his right leg.

Columbus Jets Held to Split By Virginians

By The Associated Press

Montreal, long a fertile field from which the Brooklyn Dodgers have drawn high class second basemen, has another ready for delivery to the majors in 22-year-old George Anderson.

The 5-9, 165-pound infielder, who hit only .266 with Fort Worth last season, is rapidly making Royal Fans forget Charlie Neal and Junior Gilliam, both of whom stepped from the International League club to the Brooklyn varsity

Although batting eighth in the power-laden Montreal lineup, Anderson is leading the league with a .438 average after getting five hits Sunday when the league leading Royals defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 8-2 in the first game of scheduled doubleheader.

The Leafs held a 3-1 lead when the second was suspended in the Montreal half of the seventh by Toronto's Sunday curfew It will be completed at a later date

Miami's red hot Marlins swept their third straight game from Havana, 5-2 The other games were split doubleheaders. Columbus and Richmond traded shutouts with the Jets winning the first 1-0 and the Virginians taking the second 4-0.

Buffalo ended a four-game losing streak and Rochester's five-game winning string by winning the nightcap 8-3 after the Red Wings had taken the opener 7-6.

Well, It Was Pretty Anyway

JOHN CROSBY

"Bloomer Girl," which NBC-TV resuscitated as a 90-minute color spectacular the other night, is a fine clinical study in the old-fashioned or pre-"Oklahoma" musical. Actually, it isn't pre-"Oklahoma," having opened a year later, but "Oklahoma" put such a permanent stamp on subsequent musicals that shows like "Bloomer Girl" don't open very often on Broadway any more. And, if they do open, they don't stay around long.

Not that "Bloomer Girl" is a bad musical: it just isn't a very good one. Boy meets girl in a picturesque setting — in this case just before the Civil War; boy loses girl; boy gets girl. There actually was quite a lot more plot than that revolving around the struggle for women's rights in the mid-19th century but that only drew attention to the fact that there wasn't a very strong plot. Whenever you get a weak plot, you get an awful lot of plot.

THE BLOOMER GIRL of the title is Dolly Bloomer who gave her name to that outmoded garment (though she wasn't actually the first to wear bloomers) and who got mixed up in half a dozen reform movements from antislavery to women suffrage.

In the musical she is endowed with a comedy brother-in-law who manufactures hoopskirts and is, of course, resolutely anti-bloomer and with a pretty niece who is pro - bloomer. Naturally, that leads to all sorts of implausible musical comedy situations.

The score composed by Harold Arlen contains some darned good songs but here again they aren't the kind of songs you find in musicals any more. Most of them have no relation at all with the plot. If Mr. Arlen happens to have a song about a Carolina moon lying around, the principals sing about a Carolina moon.

At one point a player bursts into a song appropriately called "I Got a Song" which has nothing to do with anything. Mr. Arlen, I guess just emptied his pockets on this show.

NOWADAYS, MOST musicals—the good ones anyway—use songs either to define a character a little more thoroughly or to advance the story. The true test of a song in a musical ought to be that if you pulled it out of the show, part of the story would be missing. Perhaps that's too strict a criterion to apply to a 90-minute spectacular on television but I offer it as got accustomed to and why this particular production struck me as flat and unconvincing.

In color, it was a pretty production, though, the settings by Ottis Riggs and costumes by Jerome Boxhorn being as eye-filling as anything I've ever seen on television. One thing about color television; if you have a flat script, you can always look at the pretty girls in their pretty dresses. It passes the time.

ON THE ROBERT Montgomery show, the same night was a play called "Who." This was a remarkably interesting idea which didn't come off. The idea here is to show a single individual as he strikes various other individuals. The lone individual—Mr. Who—was played by seven actors, each playing some aspect of Mr. Who's personality. To his son, he's a big handsome hero. To a lodge fellow, he's a slob. To his secretary he's a Mephistophelian seducer. To his dentist, he's nasty tempered. And so on.

The trouble is the author got a little too pat and coy about it all and the thing wore very thin before the hour was up. Also, I rather suspect the idea is psychologically unsound. Every man, I suppose, has a different concept of himself than his neighbors have of him. But I think there would be a remarkably large area of agreement among the neighbors themselves.

If one guy thought of him as a slob, chances are they all would. At any rate, I doubt that there would be such a vast diversity of opinion about one man as the play indicated.

NBC To Present Musical Based on 'Jack, Beanstalk'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It appears that NBC-TV is trying to corner the children's market—or, to be more specific, the children's - story - into-musical market.

This past season it has presented translations of "Heidi," "Alice in Wonderland," and, of course, "Peter Pan." Now the people there are greatly excited about an original musical version of "Jack and the Beanstalk," scheduled for fall production on "Producers' Showcase." They're so excited, in fact, that the network reportedly is considering putting the show on Broadway after its TV showing. Which is an interesting switch.

The script, musical score and lyrics have been completed by Helen Deutsch, one of Hollywood's most successful film writers, and composer Jerry Livingston.

Miss Deutsch, in discussing the show the other day, had the problem of telling enough about it to make it sound interesting and at the same time not spilling the whole bag of beans.

Scarcely anyone has a clear recollection of the story, she pointed out. It has passed out of fashion and is difficult to find in print. I couldn't find a copy, in fact, but I remember the story as going something like this:

Young chap named Jack is sent to the butcher with a cow by his mother. On the way he meets a fellow with a bag of beans and trades the cow for the beans. His mother gets so sore at this apparent idiocy that she throws out the beans. Over-night they take root and in the morning there's this enormous bean stalk growing to the sky. Jack climbs it to the top and walks to a giant's castle. There he steals the giant's magic harp, his bag of gold and the hen that lays the golden eggs The Giant, annoyed at this larceny, chases Jack down the beanstalk. But Jack chops down the stalk. Wham! The Giant falls and is killed. Jack has the loot. End of story.

19 Marion Students Pursue Education at Ohio U.

Local Group Included in Record Enrollment of 6,100 at Athens

ATHENS — On the banks of the picturesque Hocking River, located 125 miles from Marion, is Ohio University, a 152-year-old institution to which many Marion residents have come for their education.

This year 19 Marion County students are attending OU, an increase of 35 per cent over last year's enrollment of 14.

The 1955-56 academic year began with a record enrollment of 6,100 students at Ohio University, including 2,300 freshman students, the highest number of freshmen to enroll at OU in any one year. Ten of these freshmen are Marion residents.

Eighteen of the county students at OU live in Marion, and one is from LaRue.

NOT ONLY HAS enrollment gone up until today Ohio University is one of Ohio's largest universities, but results from state psychological examinations show that the average intelligence of incoming freshmen is considerably higher than in past years, according to Dr. Gaige B. Paulsen, dean of University College.

The first semester dean's list at OU supports this contention. A total of 266 freshmen made the dean's list, approximately 12 per cent of the OU freshman class.

Fifty per cent of the Marion County freshmen received this honor. They were Richard L. Doak, 725 S. Prospect Ave.; Carol Greenbaum, 232 Cummin Ave.; Helen Kannel, 117 Harcourt Pl.; Gary L. Stansbery, of near Marion; and James F. Ulsh, of near Marion.

Another countian was honored for scholarship at the honors and awards day convocation at May 11. She was Cynthia Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood R. Myers, 760 Mt. Vernon Ave. Miss Myers was one of 24 women who received the Women's League Individual Scholarship Award, which is given to students who received a perfect 4 average either this past semester or the second semester of 1954-55. She also received an Alpha Delta Lambda senior honor certificate. Miss Myers is a senior majoring in commercial art.

This trend is in accordance with the policy of President John C. Baker, who has been conducting a program to achieve quality education at Ohio University since 1945. Part of this program consists in striving to help high school students, according to Dr. Baker.

SOME EXAMPLES of this policy are the annual publications and music workshops and the annual awards competition in Ohio history, government, and citizenship for high school students. This year another workshop will be added for students interested in science.

Morral High School has already registered two students and an adviser for the eleventh annual workshop on high school publications to be conducted by the Ohio University School of Journalism June 17-23.

Richard L. Granlee, adviser of the school newspaper, "The Key," will attend with Judy Campbell, assistant editor; and Mary Ann Forry, feature editor.

Among the 950 delegates who attended the 1954 workshop were Mary Lou Blank and Sara G Daugherty, co - editors of the "Pleasant Pointers," school newspaper of Pleasant Township High School.

Representing the county at the ninth annual awards competition in Ohio history, government, and citizenship held at OU last winter was Linda Rogers of Prospect High School.

According to alumni records, 65 Ohio University alumni live in Marion County. The earliest graduate still residing in the county is Miss Mella Van Meter, 397 Mt. Vernon Ave. She received her bachelor of arts degree in 1912 and is a retired school teacher.

—:—

OTHER COUNTY students attending are Edward E. Beers, 233 Tully St.; Dan Artz, 369 N. Main St.; Douglas A Tron of near Marion, Arlene Cleveland, 290 Glad St ; Marilyn Harris, 675 Hayes St.; Sue Yazel, 324 Carner Ave.; Judith Ann Stein of 258 Clover Ave.; Richard W. Oberdier of LaRue; Joyce L. Butterworth of 1213 E. Church St.; Lawrence P. Clinger of 255 Chestnut St.; Jack K. Smith of 974 Woodrow Ave.; Richard S. Thompson of 228 Orchard St.; and Fred E. Thorn of 347 Davids St.

In keeping with the large enrollment increases, many new buildings have been constructed or are under construction now at OU. Under the guidance of Dr. Baker, an 11-unit men's dormitory project was started three and one-half years ago, and today eight of these new units are occupied.

Other new buildings in the expansion program include the modern University Center, which was first opened in 1954 on OU's 150th birthday; Voigt Hall, a new women's dormitory; and Copeland Hall, which will house the College of Commerce and School of Journalism when it is completed this summer.

Construction on the university's newest project, a $2,500,000 three-unit physical education plant, will begin this year.

MARION STUDENTS Douglas A. Tron, Judith Ann Stein, and Dan Artz take time on a balmy spring afternoon to discuss coming final examinations at Ohio University. Tron, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tron of near Marion, is graduating this year and plans to enter the service with a reserve commission. Miss Stein daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isador Stein, 258 Clover Ave., is a freshman in elementary education. Artz, sophomore in commerce, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Artz, 369 N. Main St. They are among 19 Marion County students at Ohio U.

Appropriation Asked For Headquarters in Maryland Mountains

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon plans more construction at the alternate military headquarters carved out under a western Maryland mountain for use in event of an attack on Washington

An undisclosed amount of money for the cavern project, in which at least 35 million dollars already has been invested, is contained in the military appropriation measure awaiting final action by Congress.

'Completed' 2 Years Ago

This program for additional work at the installation which includes Ft Ritchie Md, and a considerable area of land embracing Rock Raven Mountain apparently indicates a new decision for expansion More than two years ago the Defense Department said the project was "100 per cent completed"

Military secrecy surrounds details for expanding the installation

However, the new program presumably includes addition to existing administration and living space to make the cavern into an actual "underground Pentagon" instead of a mere "supplemental communications installation called for when the original project was started in January 1951

Used in CD Test

During last year's Operation Alert—the civil defense test in which top officials of the administrative branch left the capital in a government dispersal test—the installation was used as an actual nerve center for the military command for several days

This was the first time the cavern had been put to use other than for testing of the elaborate telephone telegraph and radio system which leads to military commands in the continental United States and abroad

A water main, carrying water under pressure to a reservoir, broke in Los Angeles and shot a column of water 60 feet into the air The geyser of water also poured through windows of a school across the street and flooded classrooms to a depth of two inches It took three and a half hours to shut off eight valves to stop the flow of water from the break.

U.N. Command Rejects Reds' Korean Plan

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U N Command today rejected a Communist compromise proposal to soften the order expelling the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission from South Korea

"Not acceptable," Maj Gen Robert Gard, senior U S member of the Joint Military Armistice Commission, told the Communists

The Reds had said they would agree to "temporary withdrawal" of the inspection teams if the Communist side could retain the right to send periodic inspection teams south in the future

The senior Communist delegate, Maj Gen Chung Kook Rok, earlier had demanded that the U N Command immediately cancel its order expelling the four nation truce supervision teams by next Thursday

"Your demand is rejected," snapped Gen Gard

The exchange took place at the first meeting of the armistice group since the U N Command last Thursday ordered the truce teams to return to the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea

The U N Command charged that the supervisory group's members from Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia had worked with the North Korean Reds in an attempt to conceal a buildup of modern arms and jet aircraft in the north The 1953 armistice limited both sides to the numbers of arms, men and aircraft they had in Korea when the truce came.

MASSENA, N Y (AP) — The Dwight D Eisenhower Lock of the St Lawrence Seaway has been dedicated with tributes to the waterway's role in peace and war

A brief ceremony was held Sunday at the lock site where contractors last week started pouring concrete for the 2-million-dollar project

"From the military standpoint," he said, "this will be a blessing which alone would justify the whole enterprise"

Sen Alexander Wiley (R Wis) expressed the hope that the dedication would remind Russian leaders that President Eisenhower and the American people seek to devote increasing energy "to the building of other great works of peace"

The Eisenhower Lock is now a massive excavation When completed, it will be 80 feet wide 768 feet long and will have a maximum lift of 49 feet It is part of a 10-mile seaway section that will detour vessels around the International Rapids, about a mile eastward on the St Lawrence River

Dairy Utilizing 19 New Trucks

Each Is Refrigerated To Keep Milk Cool

A fleet of 19 mechanically refrigerated trucks is being put into service this week by Borden's here to deliver fresh milk products to homes and stores, it was announced today by A. Merle Burch, the company's manager. Fourteen of the trucks will be used on retail routes and five for wholesale deliveries.

"These four-wheeled refrigerators, one of the first mechanically-cooled fleets in the state," Mr. Burch said, "are replacing the old-type delivery trucks used here for many years.

"Under the old system of using ice for refrigeration, the temperature of the milk and dairy products varied throughout the day both in summer and winter. Now the last customer on the route will get milk as fresh and cold as the first customer. The temperature remains constant at 38 degrees."

Each new retail truck holds 1,000 quarts of milk, while the capacity of the wholesale trucks is 2,000 quarts. For the first time milk will be kept constantly cool all the way from the farm to the home.
